Quota Pennant Flies From Esquimalt Park

Esquimalt citizens looked with pride today at the Victory Loan quota pennant, fluttering in the June breeze from the flagpole in Memorial Park.

It meant they had exceeded their $300,000 quota and were now striving for an honor pennant.

The flag was raised in a brief, simple ceremony this morning by Miss Louise Hayward, assistant secretary of the Esquimalt unit, while Reeve Alex Lockley, R. H. Pooley, chairman of the Esquimalt Victory Loan citizens' committee and a big crowd looked on.

Reeve Lockley congratulated the people of Esquimalt and the canvassers for co-operating to make the loan in his municipality a success. He urged them on to still further efforts in the interest of Canada and the Empire. Mr. Pooley said Esquimalt would now work to exceed its $300,000 quota by 25 per cent and thus earn an honor pennant by Saturday. The new goal is $375,000.

'Frantic Mobilization' in Russia London Predicts 'Terrific' Nazi Attempts

An Exchange Telegraph dispatch to London from Gothenburg, Sweden, today quoted a message from Stockholm as saying travelers from Russia to Finland reported a "frantic mobilization" along the railway line from Moscow to Leningrad.

The rail line was reported blocked by troops and material. In Helsinki Finnish reserves were called last night and the government today sharply curtailed civilian train traffic soon afterwards to facilitate military preparations.

A presidential decree made all reserve officers regular army officers.

Army and navy cadets are to be graduated immediately to become lieutenants, it was announced. Previously a year's active service had been a requisite.

Finns Ready to Guard Their Independence

The Finnish people were calm, quietly obeying measures to safeguard their independence as they did in 1939 when the war with Soviet Russia started.

Finnish newspapers discussed what they called the Russian-German crisis.

The Helsinki Sanomat observed that "causes independent of our control may give events a turn that can jeopardize our sovereignty, peace and liberty to the extent we are forced to defend them with everything in our power."

"Finland will not attach herself to any league of powers for dishonorable action. . . . Because this is so we are entitled to the sympathies, understanding and support of all neighbors," it declared.

London sources said the latest stroke of Nazi diplomacy left Russia virtually isolated, added fuel to reports of a crisis in German-Russian relations and even gave rise to rumors that Nazi troops actually had attacked the Soviet frontier.

Informed British circles agreed all signs pointed to the possibility of an open break between Berlin and Moscow and that the friendship treaty which Germany signed yesterday with Turkey had placed Hitler in a powerful position to enforce his will on Russia.

They regarded with skepticism, however, roundabout reports from Turkey that Germany or Rumania had served an ultimatum on Russia and that Nazi troops had fallen on the Soviet border at 15 points.

But highly-placed British circles were inclined to believe Hitler really meant business in his dealings with Russia and that reports of tension between Berlin and Moscow were not merely an artifice to cover up plans for a Nazi stroke at another point.

Britain Believes Blow Coming

However, from behind the official scenes in London where men deal always in secret information, came an ominous warning that Britain may expect to receive "some terrific blow this summer."

Newspapers, particularly Lord Beaverbrook's London Evening Standard, have been hoisting invasion signals for days and the people have been warned, not for the first time, that an invasion attempt may be expected within 80 days.

Now, while the world's eyes are focussed on Germany's military might massed all along the Russian border from Finland to Bessarabia, comes word from usually well-informed sources that "Germany in her determination to end the war this summer is preparing some terrific blow against Britain herself."

The London News Chronicle declared editorially:

"The Nazis are up to something. Before long they are going to launch another of their mighty blitzes—this time probably the mightiest of all. The question is where and against whom? The outward signs point to Russia as the next objective."

Steady Pressure Seen on Russia

Whatever the basis for the rumors, it was considered here that there was ample foundation for the belief that Hitler is steadily applying pressure to Russia to gain economic concessions vital to Germany's war plans.

Dispatches from Ankara claimed Nazi air squadrons along the Rumanian-Russian frontier had been heavily reinforced and Nazi circles in the Turkish capital were quoted as saying that "all signs point to war with Russia." Such talk might well be merely Nazi propaganda.

Diplomatic circles in Ankara said they had no direct knowledge of any German-Russian negotiations, but it was common belief there that Germany had demanded the entire exportable surplus of the Ukraine grain crop and direction of the Soviet railways, oil industry and vital mining enterprises.

Such demands, if granted, would make Russia virtually an economic vassal of Germany, these sources said. They expressed belief Soviet Premier Stalin was playing desperately for time while massing his Red army to meet the threat of Nazi troop concentrations along his frontier.

Jugoslav military and diplomatic attaches who left Moscow recently when Russia withdrew recognition of their government were quoted as saying Stalin had admitted to them that a Nazi invasion might come during the summer.

Soviet Army Ready By August

Stalin was quoted as saying his army would be ready by August and that "the enemy will get hit in the face."

Istanbul correspondents of the independent French agency gave this "version of reported German demands on Russia, according to Reuters' news agency:

1. That Bessarabia and northern Bucovina, the provinces which Russia acquired from Rumania a year ago by ultimatum, be returned to Rumania.

2. That Germany be permitted to occupy the Ukraine "for the time being."

3. That Russia "liberate" Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, the Baltic countries which she annexed, and that she withdraw her troops beyond a line of demarcation to be fixed by Germany.

4. Partial demobilization of the Soviet army.

The same source said four or five Nazi divisions, supported by a large concentration of Rumanian troops, were massed in the Rumanian province of Moldavia opposite Russia's Bessarabian frontier.

Berlin Retaliates

Germany Asks U.S. To Close Consulates

BERLIN (AP)—Germany tonight asked the United States to remove all consular and American Express Company employees from Germany, Norway, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, occupied France, Serbia (Jugoslavia) and Greece not later than July 15.

This was done in a note handed by the German Foreign Minister to the United States charge d'affaires, Leland Morris.

(It was retaliation in kind for President Roosevelt's order of last Monday requiring closing of all German consulates in the United States and removal of all consular personnel before July 10. The U.S. order also required the closing of the German Library of Information, the Railway Tourist Bureau and the German Transocean News Agency. Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles said German officials were accused of engaging in activities harmful to the United States.)

All American consulates in the places listed in the note must be closed by July 15, the German note said.

OBJECTIONABLE

"The conduct of consular and travel agency employees for long has been highly objectionable," was the explanation of DNB, German news and propaganda agency.

The American representative, D.N.B. said, had been furnished with a list of activities by United States officials declared to be "injurious to the state" and "outside the legitimate information service of the American consulates."

CHARGES GIVEN

The allegations, which DNB claimed came from a "responsible" source, included charges that:

1. The consul at Frankfurt-am-Main, Sidney Redeker, in the fall of 1939 "delivered addresses in support of propaganda unfriendly to Germany," and "passed on information concerning military secrets."

2. That consul Orsen Nielson and consul Roy Bower in Munich "during the course of the year 1940 were active in hostility toward Germany in that they in the presence of German personalities made disapproving observations about Germany and the German government."

3. The consul-general in Cologne, Alfred W. Klieforth, "in the autumn of 1939 and in the spring of 1940 carried on espionage against Germany by using key words under arrangement with the Belgian consul-general in Cologne for reports intended to concern themselves with German marching into Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg."

SAFE CONDUCT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has requested Great Britain to assure "safe conduct" through the blockade for all German consular officials in the U.S., it was learned authoritatively today, as the first move in carrying out President Roosevelt's order that they depart by July 10 because of acts "inimical to the welfare of this country."

The obligations, as well as the interests of the U.S. are that the Nazi officials be safely transported to their homes, it was explained, and not be permitted to transfer their operations to Latin American republics where Axis-inspired activities already exist.

The State Department's action in undertaking to arrange for safe conduct through the British blockade was described in informed quarters as presaging a flat rejection of the German government's protest against the White House order.

German Wounds Toronto Doctor

TORONTO (CP)—Two doctors at the Christie Street Military Hospital here were reported today to have been attacked by a German patient, a prisoner of war. Seven stitches were required to close a wound inflicted on one of the doctors.

The attack was said to have been made late yesterday as a German war prisoner, a patient, was being wheeled back to the ward after an appendectomy. One of the attending physicians was called to assist another German patient and as he was attending the prisoner the doctor was struck and suffered a facial wound.

A second doctor went to the assistance of the first and with the help of guards the patient was overpowered.

It was reported other German prisoner-patients encouraged the man to fight on, but did not join in the fray.

Col. Charles McMane, in charge of the hospital, said the other prisoner-patients were on the verge of entering the fracas but that the arrival of more guards prevented them.

Major-Gen. C. F. Constantine, officer commanding Military District No. 2, received a report on the incident and said the prisoner concerned was believed to be an epileptic case. "The prisoner was one of Germany's parachute troopers, but it has yet to be determined whether he is an epileptic or not," he added.

Major-Gen. Constantine explained epileptics often emerge from a seizure in a fighting mood. He said he had no reason to believe the proper disciplinary action could not be taken in the hospital itself.

8th Night of Major British Air Raids

Bremen, Brest Pounded By R.A.F.

LONDON (CP)—The Royal Air Force started large fires at Bremen and exploded heavy bombs across the docks of the German-occupied port of Brest in vigorous overnight raids, the Air Ministry news service announced today.

The regular Air Ministry communique said a number of ports and naval bases in northwest Germany also were attacked.

"Bremen in particular was subjected to a heavy attack, as also were docks at Brest, where three German warships still are lying," the communique said.

The warships previously were reported to be the battleships Gneisenau and Scharnhorst and a cruiser which probably is the 10,000-ton Prinz Eugen, which escaped British navy pursuit when the Nazi battleship Bismarck was sunk. It is believed the Gneisenau and Scharnhorst have been struck so many times by British bombs that they are unable to leave Brest for another haven.

8TH NIGHT RAID

It was the eighth successive night in which the R.A.F. blasted targets in Germany and along the Nazi-occupied French coast. Four British planes are missing from these operations.

(Nazi sources in Berlin admitted the R.A.F. had bombed several places in northwest Germany during the night.)

The R.A.F. launched its offensive thrusts in the early evening with a sharp assault on the Boulogne area after a day of considerable air activity over the Channel.

ARMY HUTS HIT

The Air Ministry said a German military camp was one of the targets of the initial assault, accompanied by brisk fighting in which the Nazis lost nine planes and the R.A.F. four. Several huts housing troops in the camp were destroyed.

Only a small number of German aircraft ventured over Britain during the night. Bombs were dropped at a few points in East Anglia and at one point in the Midlands.

"The damage caused was slight and no casualties have been reported," the Air Ministry said.

16 BAGGED

Another Air Ministry communique today said:

"Examination of individual reports from numerous squadrons which took part in daylight offensive operations by the Royal Air Force on Tuesday (June 17) has shown that 16 enemy fighters were destroyed. Our losses were 10 fighters."

LIGHT BOMBINGS

As to attacks on England last night, the Air Ministry said:

"A very small number of enemy aircraft crossed our coast last night and dropped bombs at a few points in East Anglia and at one point in the East Midlands. The damage was slight and no casualties have been reported."

GERMAN CLAIMS

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command claimed today two British merchantmen totaling 5,000 tons were sunk from a convoy off the British east coast in overnight air operations. (No confirmation in London.)

The east coast port of Great Yarmouth also was hammered in a night air attack and airports in southeastern England raided, the communique said.

"Mining of numerous British harbors recently has continued increasingly night and day," it added. "British shipping through this operation has suffered additional heavy losses and disturbances."

The communique claimed four British planes were shot down along the Channel coast by day and that eight others were downed by anti-aircraft guns and night fighters in an attack on Germany itself.

Vichy Troops' Sorties Fail

British Drive on Damascus From South

Canadian and Associated Press

The British Middle East command at Cairo announced this evening that "important positions have been captured just south of Damascus" in the British-Free French siege of the Syrian capital.

The war bulletin also announced that Allied troops in southern Syria had recaptured Kuneitra, while "strong Vichy forces in Merjayoun have now been surrounded."

These two towns, southwest of Damascus near the Palestine border, had been seized by a French counter-drive which held up the Allied advance.

The Royal Air Force Middle East command said this evening that Australian and R.A.F. bombers had attacked French positions which were holding up British troops near Damascus and had bombed shipping in the harbor of Beirut, Lebanon.

"One very near miss" was recorded beside a destroyer at Beirut, the communique said, and "two Vichy aircraft were shot down at Soueida" (about 63 miles southeast of Damascus).

The Vichy government admitted tonight its forces' counter-attacks on the Syrian front had been stalled since yesterday and that British forces had driven to within six miles of Damascus.

The British fleet was said to have reappeared off the Lebanon coast between Sidon and Beirut and to have pounded French positions.

Vichy admitted British forces still controlled the road from Sidon to Djizzine in that sector and that French counter-attacks had played out in vain because of a dearth of manpower to replace tired troops which had been battling without relief since the start of the campaign 12 days ago.

Decline to Surrender And Save Lives

Earlier today an authoritative source in London said the Vichy authorities said Damascus apparently had rejected a British demand for surrender and expressed belief Allied forces already had launched a direct attack on the city.

Reuters' news agency had reported that Gen. Sir Maitland Wilson, British commander, had broadcast, from Jerusalem an ultimatum calling on the Vichy French to surrender by 5.30 a.m.

today (7.30 yesterday evening P.S.T.). Failure to capitulate meant an attack on the capital at dawn, the report said.

There was no indication in reports from London the ultimatum had been complied with.

Forces Closed in From 3 Sides

Dispatches from the Middle East previously had indicated Damascus was threatened from three sides by Allied forces.

A military spokesman at Jerusalem reported "a good deal of opposition" by defenders of the city as British, Free French and Indian troops closed in from the west, south and southeast.

Closest to the city last night was a column which occupied Mezze, a western suburb three and one-half miles from Damascus.

Continuous pressure also was being exerted along the front southeast of the capital at Jebel el Kelb—Hill of the Dog—the spokesman said.

Retaking of Ezraa Reopens Railway

Communications of the railroad line from the Trans-Jordan border to Kisse, just south of Damascus, were reopened with the recapture Tuesday of Ezraa, the spokesman said, and raiding Vichy parties were driven from Kuneitra, a point well behind the general Allied front, that night.

On the coastal sector, advance Australian troops were reported to have reached the village of Damous, 13 miles south of Beirut, capital of Lebanon. A parallel column supporting the Australian flank in the hills to the east has captured several tanks and many Vichy infantrymen, a spokesman in Jerusalem added.

Hanki el Azm, former Syrian prime minister, was reported to have appealed from Cairo to Gen. Dentz to give up the struggle. "Avoid bloodshed and destruction," and "protect the interests of the people."

An R.A.F. communique said hostile aircraft twice approached the British island of Malta yesterday, but were intercepted by British fighters. One Italian fighter was shot down, it said, and others were damaged.

In all Middle East operations four British aircraft were listed as missing.

Salum Sortie Upsets Nazi Plan

LONDON (CP)—An authoritative source said today British North African forces had so little interference in their withdrawal to their original positions east of Salum that "it looks as if the enemy was hit so hard he didn't like to come on—or couldn't" in this week's desert fighting.

This source said the British forces "got away very lightly indeed" from their sudden penetration deep into Axis-held territory and subsequent withdrawal.

He added that although no definite report showed that Axis forces had been preparing for their own attack, all information tended to show they were deployed and it seemed "quite possible" the British move forestalled some action by them.

Commenting on an Italian report that the British forces used 1,000 tanks in the battle, this source said the actual number was "much less."

CLAIM 200 TANKS

ROME (AP)—The Italian high command claimed today Axis planes were hammering British troops withdrawing after the battle of Salum.

SCENE OF DESERT FIGHTING—This map shows how British forces swung past and around Salum (Sollum). Objectives being achieved, they withdrew to points east of Salum and since then fighting has been in progress in the Hellfire Pass region. The enemy's land line around Tobruk is shown.

The daily communique claimed Britain lost about 200 tanks and 42 planes in the battle. (So far since the Libyan fighting began the R.A.F. has announced 21 planes lost. No estimate is available of the number of tanks lost, but the Italian claim was regarded as exaggerated.)

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—The board of conciliation in the dispute between the National Steel Car Corporation and employees—members of the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee (C.I.O.) today adjourned its hearings. The chairman, Judge A. H. Dowler of Port Arthur, stated the board would prepare a report for the federal labor minister.

E. J. Brunning of the Department of Munitions and Supply, federal controller of the local plant, declared in his brief that he had no authority to recognize any union, but said he was willing to meet with any committee appointed by the employees to discuss wages, hours and other matters.

About a month later the eye was removed.

Establishment of a school zone on Government Street at the Michigan intersection was recommended to the council by the public works committee at the request of the school board. Several other traffic signs were also proposed by the committee.

Nazi-Turk Pact May Affect Moslems

ANKARA, Turkey (Delayed AP)—British diplomats today expressed fear of the effect of the Turkish-German pact in Moslem countries, which are deeply affected by Turkish policy.

They added, however, that the pact of nonaggression and consultation, with its preamble clause safeguarding Turkey's alliance with Britain, did not weaken Anglo-Turkish solidarity because its terms reserved "existing contractual relations" of both signers.

As expressed by the foreign office, the official Turkish attitude is that fundamental policy is unchanged, Turkey remaining bound to Britain while protecting herself against trouble with Germany as she previously had done with Soviet Russia and Bulgaria.

The British embassy said Britain regarded Turkey's position with sympathetic understanding and never wanted Turkey dragged into the war.

TURKEY NEUTRALIZED

BERLIN (AP)—Hitler, in the Nazi view, has neutralized Turkey by obtaining a 10-year non-aggression and mutual consultation pact.

The treaty became effective when signed last night in Ankara by Franz von Papen, the German ambassador, and Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu.

The treaty was compared with the German pact with Russia which preceded the outbreak of war by Nazi spokesmen who claimed it would influence the course of the war just as decisively.

FREE HAND

It was interpreted here as giving Germany a free hand for whatever operations may become necessary in the east.

Significantly, the Kremlin at Moscow as yet has given to indication of how the Russians feel about the pact.

Churchill to Speak

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons it was not convenient for him to make a war review today, but he might in the near future on "the very important operations which have been pursued with so much vigor in the Middle East."

Roosevelt May Visit Ottawa in July

OTTAWA (CP)—President Roosevelt may make his projected visit to Ottawa next month, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said today on his return from New York.

"But there is nothing definite and there can be nothing definite about the time at the moment," he added. "The President is determined to come and will make the trip as soon as circumstances permit."

The Prime Minister arrived by train from New York, where he addressed a banquet gathering of associated Canadian organizations Tuesday evening on Canada's war effort.

He said he had gained the impression in New York that the feeling towards Canada was "very, very good."

Yesterday the Prime Minister spent the morning in conference with Hon. Leighton G. McCarthy, Canadian Minister to the United States, who came from Washington to attend Tuesday night's dinner.

Asked whether he intended making a trip to the British Columbia coast, Mr. King said he did not know if it would be possible for him to be away from Ottawa for any lengthy period. He said he intended, however, making a number of short trips to familiarize himself with the operating side of Canada's industrial and armed war effort.

No Hess Statement For British Public

LONDON (CP)—Long parliamentary pressure on the government for a statement on the Rudolf Hess case resulted today in a declaration by Richard Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, that such a statement was not regarded "as being in the public interest."

Samuel Silverman, Labor, recalled Mr. Churchill's speech June 10, in which the Prime Minister said Britain had advised the government of the United States about the German deputy fehrer's flight to Scotland May 10.

"What is the government of the United States entitled to know that our people should not know?" Mr. Silverman demanded.

Mr. Butler said rumors that Hess was held at Chequers, the country home of Britain's Prime Minister, were nonsense.

The Under-Secretary reiterated the government's position that Hess "is being treated as an officer and kept in detention as a prisoner of war."

Mr. Butler denied "statements implying that he is receiving very special and luxurious treatment."

Nazis Admit Dublin Bombing

LONDON (CP)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Dublin today said the Irish information bureau had issued a statement saying Germany had sent a communication to the Eire government which said:

"The thorough investigations made by competent German authorities concerning the dropping of bombs on Dublin May 31 now establishes the responsibility on German aircraft."

"It has been ascertained a German aircraft flew over the east Irish coast by mistake in the early morning of May 31. The aircraft changed its course as soon as it recognized it was over Irish territory, but in any case it did not drop any bombs."

"Since, however, the Irish government have stated their investigations have shown that bombs dropped on Dublin were of German origin and as a very strong wind was prevailing at high altitudes on the night in question, it may have driven aircraft over the east Irish coast without the knowledge of the pilot."

DENIED PREVIOUSLY

"In Berlin earlier this week the Nazis denied—apparently for home consumption—that German planes had dropped bombs on Eire, and claimed extensive investigation had shown there was no foundation in the Eire charges."

"The possibility of such a plane having dropped the bombs cannot be excluded."

"In the circumstances the German government unhesitatingly expresses its sincere regrets to the Irish government. Furthermore, the German government in view of the friendly relations existing between the two countries is prepared to give compensation for the deplorable loss of life and injury to personal property."

Twenty-seven lives were lost and 45 persons were wounded in the bombing.

Blackout Success In Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—While planes of the Royal Norwegian Air Force thundered overhead and searchlights stabbed blue streaks through the sky, Toronto's thousands had their first blackout experience.

Attorney-General G. D. Conant, chairman of the Ontario civilian defence committee, said it demonstrated "that we can meet emergencies if they arise."

It lasted for 15 minutes, from 10.30 to 10.45 last night. Standing out like beacon lights were the illuminations of several plants on the outskirts engaged on war work, exempted under regulations from observing the blackout.

People in the News

Sometimes Worth Waging

LORD HALIFAX, the British ambassador to the United States, said in New Haven, Conn., war, despite its "wreckage of human lives," was worth waging "provided you can preserve the roots of those things upon which all human life depends."

If those roots were cut, the tall diplomat told more than 1,000 Yale alumni at their annual luncheon, "there is no springtime, no recovery, no day of resurrection, but merely a long lapse back into utter darkness and blank despair."

The envoy and Wendell L. Willkie, both of whom received honorary degrees of laws degrees at the 240th commencement, each expressed confidence in an Allied victory.

'Luckiest in World'

In one respect, at least, OSCAR OHLSEN felt he was the "luckiest man in the world." He is in Capetown, South Africa.

His father was killed when the Norwegian ship on which he was serving was dive-bombed.

His brother on the same ship lost his legs and an arm.

His two sisters, nurses, escaped death when their hospital ship was bombed, but were killed by Nazi machine-gun bullets as they were hiding in an island cave.

His mother was killed in an air raid.

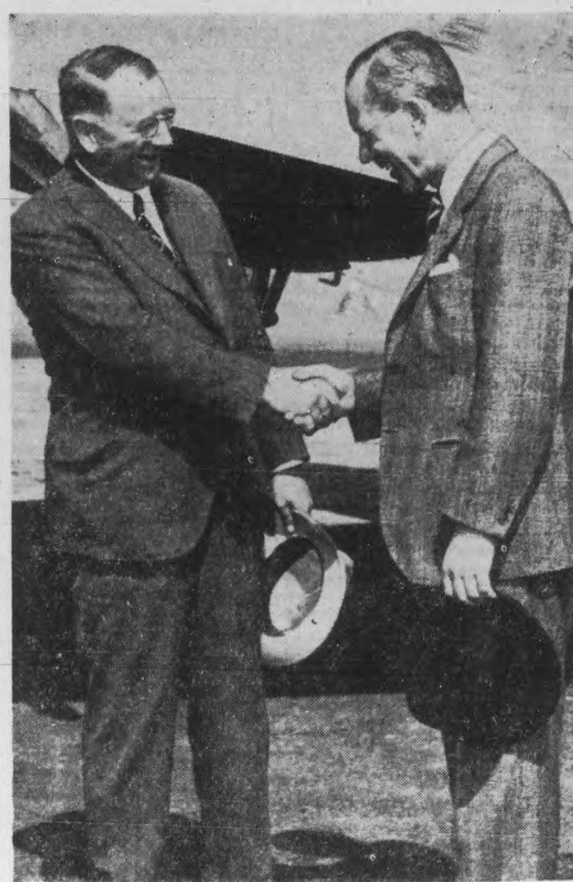

Ohlson himself was blinded when his tanker was attacked in the Persian Gulf.

But he thinks the Ohlsen had luck has ended, because the tanker went on from Capetown without him and then was sunk in the Atlantic—and yesterday Ohlsen was married to the Capetown nurse who took care of him.

'Perhaps Next Year'

A prediction the war will end in a British victory "perhaps next year, perhaps year after next" was voiced by PRIME MINISTER SMUTS in a university speech in Capetown.

"This year will be the most crucial and critical of the whole war," he said. "It will be a terrific task for us to maintain our defenses and see that we are not overwhelmed by the forces which have been prepared in darkness for years."

"When we have done this defensive task and are able to launch the thunderbolt of war against the enemy I have no doubt of the decision."

Call to Arms

DEFENCE MINISTER RALSTON urged that young Canadians rally to the call to arms "because freedom is the sole reward of those who have the courage to enjoy it."

Col. Ralston said "we have cause to be thankful that the front line the Canadian corps is holding can be held."

Canada Births Up

OTTAWA (CP)—Live births in Canada during the final quarter of 1940 totaled 58,816, an annual equivalent rate of 20.5 per 1,000 population, compared with 53,120 and a rate of 18.6 for the corresponding quarter of 1939, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Deaths during the last quarter of 1940 numbered 29,200, a rate of 10.2 compared with 26,321 and a rate of 9.2 during the last quarter of the preceding year.

Marriages numbered 29,519, a rate of 10.3 compared with 35,340 and a rate of 12.3.

TORONTO (CP)—R. B. Cochran, board of home missions secretary of the United Church of Canada, announced yesterday appointment of a number of ministers, graduates from eastern Canadian universities, to posts in western Canada.

Ship Debate Planned For Secret Sitting

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill resisted demands today in the House of Commons for a public debate on the gravity of the shipping situation by insisting it was impossible to state the government's position "except under the protection of the secret session."

Announcing the government will review the Battle of the Atlantic at an early date, he said: "It would be a great pity if we were forced to conduct discussions on these most grave matters with every word quickly reaching the enemy. No justice could be done to the argument in such circumstances."

U.S. OPINION

Leslie Hore-Belisha, former war secretary, joined others in asking the Prime Minister to reconsider, mentioning "the effect created in the United States when we began to publish our shipping losses on a monthly instead of a weekly basis."

Mr. Hore-Belisha said "it is most important to get the full co-operation of public opinion in the United States in order to get further help from that country, if possible in convoy."

Damaged Lungs Repaired, Reshaped

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lungs damaged by tuberculosis are being repaired and chests reshaped in the United States.

Ribs are removed and new ones grown, with changed shapes, to form a remoulded chest cage. The effort is to maintain permanent healing. This alteration is one of surgery's outstanding contributions to tuberculosis treatment.

The story of this operation, known as thoracoplasty, was reported to the American Medical Association by Dr. Richard H. Overholt of Boston. The operation provides a permanent collapse of the diseased lung. Sometimes half-a-dozen ribs must be removed and rebuilt, and a new chest wall must be formed to replace the missing ribs.

Reshaping the lung and building an altered chest does not always finish the surgeon's job. Frequently one shoulder blade has to be made over.

Without reshaping, the blade may impinge on lower, unaltered ribs, resulting in a raised shoulder and a lop-sided appearance, or in painful shoulder movement.

Thoracoplasty was first performed in 1885. Progress was slow for many years, but during the last decade many refinements have made the operation more effective and safer.

Dr. Overholt reported a survey of several hundred persons who had been discharged "with consent" from various sanatoria. He found 94 per cent were still living. Reactivation of the disease was low, and 83 per cent of all the patients were able to work.

Urges Black Market End

LONDON (CP)—Lord Woolton, Minister of Food, has appealed to the nation's food merchants to "do away with this black market (sales outside ration regulations) which is causing some of us anxiety and causing so much disruption" of supplies.

All, he said in a speech before a national convention of bakers, should share equally. He told the bakers he planned to prohibit sliced bread, stop wrapping and restrict the number of types.

Speed-up Deferred In Medical Courses

OTTAWA (CP)—Brig. R. M. Gorssline, director-general of medical services, said proposed acceleration of medical courses at Canadian universities designed to train more medical students for war work has been deferred "for the time being."

He said the postponement was necessary because there was not enough time to put any proposed plan into effect this summer and that no definite plans for a speed-up of medical courses had yet been formulated.

Deans of the medical faculties of Canadian universities conferred in Ottawa recently with representatives of National Defence headquarters, but no statement was forthcoming after the meeting. The conference followed a statement from defence headquarters indicating more doctors were needed for overseas service.

CANADIAN WORKERS!

Our fighting men must have your help NOW

This is a mechanized war. Much of the responsibility for its outcome rests squarely upon the shoulders of those who toil—in workshop and office, factory and farm. Proudly, labour accepts the challenge. All Canada resounds with the hum and clang of tireless industry. Our men and women are at work!

Now—immediately—our fighting men need more tanks and guns, more ships and planes, more food and equipment. Today it is more true than ever that "there is not a week, nor a day, nor an hour to be lost!"

Canada's war effort calls for huge sums of money. You, the worker, are asked to invest your savings, and some of your wages, in Victory Bonds. All Canada is your security for repayment. Invest cheerfully, quickly, generously.

Act now. Let your dollars have a glorious share in helping to turn back the barbaric power that would make slaves of free men.

Time Will Be Judge

IF TURKEY AND GERMANY ARE SATISFIED with the treaty to which the representatives of both countries appended their signatures yesterday—after months of heaviest Nazi pressure—and if its terms do not materially change the understanding which exists between Ankara and London, well and good. But when we read of the German Reich being animated by a desire to place its relationship with any nation on a foundation of "mutual trust and honest friendship"—without prejudice to mutually binding obligations previously accepted—we cross all our fingers and insert tongue in cheek. And when we note that the life of such an agreement is 10 years, with the option of extension by common consent, we crave more fingers and an additional tongue. It appears, however, to be reasonable to suppose that the value of the latest treaty lies not so much in the intrinsic purpose it is proclaimed to serve as in its potential usefulness as another part of the delaying action to Nazi ambition in the southeastern theatre of war.

The new pact stipulates that Germany will respect the integrity and inviolability of Turkish territory—so does Turkey in respect of German territory—and that the two will deal with one another in a friendly manner "on all questions touching their common interests." How familiar this phraseology sounds! But in this case, and at this stage of the conflict, the implications of the pact assuredly suggest that Hitler is beset by more forebodings than he cares to admit. As a diplomatic manoeuvre it has its useful points—as it concerns Russia. It may sound well in the ears of a puzzled German people as they note the frequency with which the R.A.F. visits their cities, but it obviously infers that the German high command has given up all hopes of persuading the government at Ankara to permit the passage of Nazi troops through Turkish territory. What, then, becomes of the northern half of the much-advertised pincer movement which had Egypt and Suez as main objectives in Nazi strategy? The answer to that question evidently must be supplied by Russia.

And this prompts other inquiries: Has Stalin stiffened his back? Has he come to the end of his concessions to Germany? Does he propose to block Hitler's designs on the Ukraine and Russia's oil in the Middle East—to get which the Nazi chief could bypass Turkish territory by keeping to the more northerly route? Here again answers may soon be provided as the significance of troop movements on the Russo-German frontier from Finland to the Black Sea is revealed. In any event, if the new treaty of "mutual trust and honest friendship" between Turkey and the Reich means more for what it does not provide than for what the world and the German people are asked to believe it provides, and if it shall have the effect of relieving the Ankara government of its immediate concern, it will suit Britain's purpose—even though its terms may be honored only for a month or two. Time is of the essence for the Allies.

Senate Vacancies

POLITICAL DOG DAYS DURING THE last quarter of a century have occasionally produced desultory arguments in support of a plan to "reform" the Canadian Senate. The discussion has rarely gone beyond the academic stage. It could scarcely go further since the upper chamber has shown no particular inclination either to recommend its own abolition, to curtail its numbers, or to replace the appointive with the elective method. Whatever the general public may think about its usefulness, the Senate is an integral part of our constitutional system and, as such, its function in government is entitled to respect.

We do not see eye to eye with the Vancouver Daily Province, therefore, when it implies that—"until reform of some sort comes"—it makes little practical difference who is appointed, or whether any appointment at all is made, to fill the British Columbia seat which the death of Hon. J. D. Taylor of New Westminster rendered vacant. Our contemporary argues:

"There is the usual race for the appointment. There are preferences on one ground or another, but, really, does it matter to any British Columbian or any Canadian, except the man personally concerned, whether John Doe or Tim Tiddler gets the appointment? What is the Canadian Senate anyway? And what is its function in these dangerous days? The Canadian Senate is an expensive institution which renders no public service corresponding with its cost. It serves no function whatever that could not be dispensed with."

But we agree with the Province when it says "this does not mean that the Senate could not be made a useful part of the Canadian government machine"—such a useful part as the Fathers of Confederation designed it to be. On this basis, and since the upper chamber, like the poor, is destined to be with us for a considerable time longer, it is to the point to suggest that seats now vacant be filled by outstanding Canadians who have served their country with distinction—either in public office or in spheres in which their qualities have stood the test of performance—so that they may play the "useful part" for which the Fathers of Confederation fashioned the institution.

This Unpredictable War

CORRESPONDENTS AT ISTANBUL ARE reported to have learned that the following four-point demand has been sent to the Kremlin by the Nazi oligarchy in Berlin:

1. That Bessarabia and Northern Bucovina, the provinces Russia acquired from Rumania a year ago by ultimatum, be returned to Rumania.

2. That Germany be permitted to occupy the Ukraine "for the time being"—whatever that may mean.

3. That Russia "liberate" Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, the Baltic countries which she annexed, and that she withdraw her troops beyond a line of demarcation to be fixed by Germany.

4. Partial demobilization of the Soviet Army.

Were Stalin to grant such concessions to Germany, of course, Russia would automatically descend to the level of a vassal state of the Reich. The dictator of Moscow would become the laughing stock of the world. All the grandiose pronouncements he has made in recent years would mock him. Internal revolution might intervene and sweep him from power. Fantastic as it may seem, however, the Nazi chief may be trying to force the issue—translating into action the gospel of "Mein Kampf." Therein he said "we must never forget that the legends of present-day Russia are common, bloodstained criminals" and the "scum of humanity."

While this is a case of the pot calling the kettle black, not now to be taken seriously as it concerns the political relations between Russia and Germany, Hitler has proved himself adept at inventing the craziest excuses for action when expediency is master. But an invasion of the Soviet domain at this stage of the conflict, if Stalin should prove adamant in the face of further demands made or contemplated by Berlin, would arouse even the most torpid of souls.

Yet if Hitler thinks his treaty of "mutual trust and honest friendship" with Turkey has relieved his apprehensions in the southeast, that this pact strengthens his position with the Nazi militarists of the old school, he may yet try to force a way through a part of Russia that would eventually—or so he may hope—lead him to the Soviet oilfields without violating Turkish territory.

Useful Pamphlets

CANADA'S DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INFORMATION, Mr. G. H. Lash, has just completed an excellent job in compiling two documents, one of four pages that will fit neatly into a passport book and the other a 32-page product. The more detailed and comprehensive of the two is a modest and carefully-compiled brochure describing in essential fact Canada's part in the war up to June 1 of this year. The leaflet is just what it is intended to be—a concise and easily-understandable abridged edition of the other. And this smaller one is designed to answer almost every question respecting the Dominion's effort that might be asked by the man in the street of a Canadian visiting the United States—or, of course, of an American returning home from a visit to this country. A copy is being placed in every passport issued by the Canadian Passport Bureau, and the Customs Division of the Department of National Revenue has arranged with its officials to hand one of these leaflets to every individual crossing the border into the neighboring Republic. The larger pamphlet will be distributed through various agencies so that the wide circulation it deserves shall be assured. Both publications, it should be noted, are to be reissued monthly to keep the record up to date as the nation's war program unfolds in its growing intensity. As an experienced journalist and publicity director, Mr. Lash has more than justified his elevation to the post he has occupied for many months, and his latest innovation bears witness to his complete knowledge of the Canadian war scene, and his understanding of what the public wants to know—what it should be told for its own information.

What will Stalin do if Hitler tries to put him behind the eight-ball?

Russia's policy of "what-we-have-we'll-hold" may soon be put to the test if reported Nazi military moves mean anything at all.

A Calgary sergeant-major has invested $10,000 in Victory bonds, thereby increasing our sympathy with letter writers protesting against popular songs making fun of sergeant-majors.

PARLIAMENT

From Ottawa Journal

It is human, of course, for ministers to think of Parliament as a sort of hindrance; to think of it as interfering with their work, making for delay and annoyance. The thought may sometimes be justifiable, yet in the gross there is everything to be said for Parliament's supervision and criticism; more especially where the criticism is informed and constructive. To argue otherwise is to argue against the democratic system.

And let none of us imagine that Parliament's deliberations are mostly futile talk. Too much talk there may be, and much of it futile, yet if one studies Parliament with care, reads its Hansard with understanding, what will be found is that most discussion in Parliament is sound, necessary and useful. There is too much judgment of the House of Commons that is uninformed and superficial.

So far as the last session is concerned, it has been, on the whole, creditable and helpful. It has enabled the country to know a great deal more than it knew before of the scope and character of the government's war effort—a thing which was highly desirable. A people taxed heavily for war, and asked to lend heavily for war, has got to be told what is being done with its money.

Let it be added, in all fairness, that the government has been sensible about criticism.

Bruce Hutchison

NOT AS BAD

PREMIER KING says the war situation, though serious, is far better for us than we could have dared to hope at this time a year ago. This is a good thing to think about when you are feeling low. Mr. King can feel it better than the public because he, and most of Ottawa, knew just how bad it was a year ago.

At this time a year ago I was in Washington and I found that no one believed there was a chance for Britain. Everybody said it was a matter of days or weeks at most before Britain must surrender. It was so bad that when one telephoned to one's boss up in Canada one spoke in parables and wrote long telegrams in an absurd code so that only the recipient would understand them.

Even last autumn high officers of the U.S. War Department assured me that the Dardanelles and Suez would be gone early this spring and there was no hope whatever of holding them. Washington was in a kind of mass panic and men went around in a daze, and the night Petain surrendered, a hot wet Washington night, I dare say there was no one in the place who thought the war could go on much longer. Mr. King is right in asking us to remember these things. Nothing has turned out half as badly as everyone had expected.

STILL GOING STRONG

PARLIAMENT has gone home. No one will be sorry, least of all those of us who spent a good part of the spring with it. You might say that Parliament accomplished nothing except the budget, an accomplishment of gigantic proportions, which you will not fully appreciate until you pay your next income tax. But that is a short view. Parliament accomplished a great deal in merely managing to exist, for most of the world's parliaments have disappeared.

The mere fact of existence may not seem important at first glance, but in the end it is the most important fact of our national life. So long as Parliament exists and meets and can speak freely, we may not have brilliant government in Canada, but we cannot have altogether bad government; we may not have perfect justice, but we cannot have real tyranny; we may not have full equality but we cannot have complete injustice.

Parliament is a weary business. For months they meet and they talk and most of the talk seems to accomplish nothing, and often, listening to it, I have gone raging out of the gallery swearing that democracy was a failure. But I knew it wasn't. I knew that there must be a lot of talk in a democracy, not for its immediate results, but for its long-term results. In the end Parliament rules and while the back benches' speech may be forgotten, the piled-up speeches, protests, advice and complaint of 245 members have their effect.

The great thing is that the government must explain to Parliament. Close up Parliament, let us say, for a year or two so that the government may get on with the war, and no one knows what the government would do. But so long as it must face Parliament regularly, it cannot do anything very wicked. So, when you come to think of this, this dull, ponderous, bumbling and fat-headed creature called Parliament is finally the only tangible legal and dependable thing that separates us from the other system. It is our safeguard, our protector. It is democracy and it is freedom and when it goes democracy and freedom will go, too. They have gone elsewhere.

You cannot merely elect governments and then go away and assume that all will be well. You must post your sentries, you must send in the auditors, you must have the right to demand an answer to any question concerning your business.

THE VIRTUOUS VS. THE VICIOUS

From "Rasselas, Prince of Abyssinia," by Samuel Johnson (1709-1784)

"If all men were virtuous," returned the artist, "I should with great alacrity teach them all to fly. But what would be the security of the good, if the bad could at pleasure invade them from the sky? Against an army sailing through the clouds, neither walls, nor mountains, nor seas, could afford any security. A flight of northern savages might hover in the wind, and light at once with irresistible violence upon the capital of a fruitful region that was rolling under them."

INFUENTIAL SUPERMAN

By E. B. WHITE in Harpers Magazine

Anne Carroll Moore, of the New York Public Library, writes me that a representative of Superman, Inc., paid a call on the children's room the other day.

He was an average-size man (nothing super), and was armed with a large poster depicting Superman (full strength), with a list of recommended books. The list included Robin Hood and King Arthur. He told Miss Moore that boys and girls would read those books if they knew that Superman approved them.

He said his hero carried great weight now, and the teachers in public schools frequently commanded instant obedience from their pupils by invoking Superman.

As far as I could gather from Miss Moore's letter, he didn't say anything about Louisa May Alcott, author of "Little Women" and "Little Women."

BATTLE FOR THE WORLD

Are Germany and Russia getting ready to fight? Or are the exaggerated manoeuvres now taking place in eastern Europe all part of an act calculated to impress the spectators?

My guess is that the latter is true, but only for the moment. The best proof that Stalin and Moscow are not going to fight just now is that their gestures are too obvious—for all the world like those horrible grimaces and groans made by a traveling pair of wrestlers, who in town after town impress the gaping on-lookers with their prearranged fake routine.

But I have always thought that the time will surely come for a falling out and final showdown between the gangster boss in Berlin and the gangster boss in Moscow.

WAY TO VICTORY

This conclusion has been strengthened by reading "Battle for the World," by Max Werner. The author is the man who in 1938 wrote "The Military Strength of the Powers." He was the only writer who wrote for laymen, and in the English language, who correctly assessed the strength of all the powers in the present war, and who forecast with uncanny accuracy the part played by German tanks, dive-bombers, and other ultra-modern machines of war.

Werner thinks that the only way to beat Germany is to beat her on continental Europe, and by land action, after naval power and air power have done their work of lowering German resistance. He argues that the only power with the particular kind of military strength to accomplish that purpose is Soviet Russia.

In other words, Werner argues that unless and until Soviet Russia turns against Nazi Germany, and throws her weight into the war against Hitler, there is no hope of an out-and-out Nazi defeat.

WILL RUSSIA TURN?

Many of us might observe, in this connection, that the democracies have almost broken their necks trying to get in a position to make a deal with the Soviet in the past year. But so far there is not the slightest evidence of any such desire or intention on the part of Stalin.

Mayhew: 'We Can't Win On a Stingy Program'

From House of Commons Debates, June 11

Mr. MAYHEW (Victoria, B.C.): I believe that the government and the people of Canada have made one mistake in this present war, namely, that they have underestimated entirely the capacity of the Canadian people to produce. A year ago we were saying that we did not have enough uniforms for our soldiers. What have we today? We have sufficient plants to supply all our men with uniforms, and to spare. We could double the amount. Two years ago we had 13 boats; today we have over 200 naval boats in operation, all built in Canada. For a time we were turning boats off the ways at the rate of one a day. Would any person in Canada have said that we could have done that?

An hon. MEMBER: Yes.
Mr. MAYHEW: Would any of us have realized that we could turn out 190,000 transport vehicles to be sent all over the country? Mr. JOHNSTON (Bow River): And we must do better than that. Mr. MAYHEW: If anyone in this house has listened patiently, then certainly those of us on this side of the house have listened to you. Now you are going to keep your seat and listen for a moment or two to us. I am not objecting to your policy. I am quite prepared to sit and listen—and at times it is pretty tough to do so—but I have the floor now.

It was not estimated that we could build 200 vessels in Canada, plus all the rest of the equipment we have been turning out. Any one who thinks that Canada is not producing should visit the harbors of Halifax, Saint John and Montreal; there he will see the assembly of goods produced in Canada, goods which are being shipped in enormous quantities.

Mr. GILLIS: To whose credit is that?
Mr. MAYHEW: It is to the credit of workmen and to the credit of the manufacturers that the program has been lined up as it is today.

Mr. JACQUES: Why was it not done before?

Mr. MAYHEW: We never had occasion to do it before.

Mr. JACQUES: There were a million people on relief.

Mr. SPEAKER: I must ask hon. members to address their questions to the chair. The hon. member for Victoria, B.C., has the floor.

Mr. MAYHEW: In matters of production we have done wonders in Canada. We have underestimated our ability to produce. I am not saying that we are doing all we can do. In what I have said I am not suggesting that we should not have a program which would be inviting and inspiring to the people of Canada, and one which would challenge them. I say: "Tell us what you want. Tell us the things you think we cannot do, and you will find there is engineering ability and backbone in our people, and resources sufficient to do it." I say, "If you want a bridge across the Atlantic built from boats, then tell us what type boat you want, and the Canadian people will give it to you." We have a boat-building program now, and it can be enlarged. Probably it cannot be enlarged in steel, because we are short of steel; but me have plenty of wood on both Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and we can turn out more wooden boats. It is not a case of whether a piece of equipment is the cheapest we can get; it is a case of what we can give to the manufacturer, and what kind of equipment we can put on the ocean to carry our stuff from Canada to England.

I do not care how proud we may be of what we have accomplished; we have lost practically the whole of the last four weeks talking nonsense in this House of Commons, instead of getting down to planning about what we actually can do.

Mr. HANSELL: No, not four weeks—four years.

Mr. MAYHEW: I do not know whether it is four years or not; but we have lost four weeks, anyway.

Mr. HANSELL: Ten years.
Mr. MAYHEW: I can tell you this. In my opinion it was not the budget, or the amount of taxes our people have to pay, or the war loans they have to buy, which scared the people of Canada. There is, however, something quite evident in this chamber that tells us, "You must not do this"—or that we must not do something else. There is something about us that is tightening us up so that we do not know exactly what we are supposed to do.

During the Easter recess I was talking to manufacturers in my home city, and I said this, "Streamline every bit of equipment you have. If your plant is obsolete or obsolescent, renew it and put it into a position where it will give the best service, because you need it now, and you will need it after the war." However, I came to Ottawa, and I found that if one wants to streamline his plant he must have a permit to do so. That is not a good thing. I do not think we can win this war or save this country on a stingy program. We must go ahead. I, for one, am not prepared to sit down; I am not prepared to sit idly by. I have piled up round my own plant at the present time over $100,000 worth of equipment. My boy wrote me the other day, saying, "Dad, what do they want us to do? Do they want us to go ahead and develop our plants, make them better so that we can pay more taxes, or do they want us to quit?" That situation must be cleared up. We must decide whether we are going to win this war by stingy methods, or whether we are going to win it by working and by production.

Another £1,000,000,000

LONDON (CP)—The House of Commons will be asked at its next session to approve expenditure of an additional £1,000,000,000 ($4,450,000,000) to meet war and other expenses during the year ending March 31, 1942, a white paper announced today. This is the second vote of credit to be asked this year. The first, approved last February 6, also was for £1,000,000,000.

The vote of credit does not mean raising money by taxation or by other new revenue-raising means. It simply authorizes the government to spend that amount from the national revenue raised by budget provisions.

Scottish Move Over Malahat to Nanaimo

Headed by their pipers the 2nd Battalion, Canadian Scottish, are shown moving along the Shawnigan Lake Cutoff, with the railroad tracks in the foreground. They march single-file so as not to interfere with the traffic. After spending last night at the north end of Shawnigan Lake they are today moving on to Maple Bay. They are en route to Nanaimo, where they will continue their training.

Amidst their dogs, Napoleon may have thought an army marched on its stomach but here are a bunch of troops who think that the feet have a lot to do with it. When it was time to fall out for lunch yesterday many soldiers took off their puttees, socks and heavy boots.

"Come and get it," shouted the cook and the boys were right on his heels. Here they are being handed sandwiches and coffee at noon after crossing the Malahat.

Eating among the ferns and flowers, an idea setting for a meal. These Scotties are being refreshed for another eight-mile march before knocking off for the night.

7 AIR DEATHS IN R.C.A.F. LIST

OTTAWA (CP)—Royal Canadian Air Force headquarters today reported the deaths of seven airmen in Canada and overseas in its 50th official casualty list of the war. Today's list brought the total number of dead and missing reported by the R.C.A.F. since the war began to 320.

One was killed in battle overseas, while three are missing due to a flying accident and operational flight. One man was reported dangerously ill. Three were killed in flying accidents in Canada, two are seriously injured and three more are reported dangerously or seriously ill.

Killed in a flying battle was Sergt. Guy A. Chestnut of Mooseomin, Sask. The other casualties all have been reported in news dispatches recently.

Losses in Greece

CANBERRA (CP)—Army Minister Percy Spender told the House of Representatives today 9,000 British, Australian and New Zealand troops were taken prisoner in Greece.

He said 5,951 Australians had not returned from the campaigns in Greece and Crete.

Australians taking part in the Greek and Crete campaigns totaled 17,236 officers and men, Mr. Spender said, of whom 11,285 returned to Egypt and Palestine. Losses in Greece he set at 2,275 and in Crete 3,676.

1941 Rhodes Scholars

Vancouver Boy Chosen, Scholarships Off for War

In announcing the nine Canadian Rhodes Scholarship awards for 1941, D. R. Michener, Canadian representative of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust in Toronto, said today no competitions for the scholarships for 1942 would be held, and possibly none would be held until after the war.

Although the scholarships for 1941 have been awarded, Mr. Michener said, they will be suspended for duration of the war, as were the 1939 and 1940 scholarships, with special exceptions. Provision was made for winners wishing to do such work as medical or scientific research to take up the scholarships, tenable at Oxford University.

The suspended scholarships may be resumed after the war, Mr. Michener said.

The awards are valued at approximately $2,000 annually for two or three years and are awarded to outstanding university students under terms of the will of the late Cecil Rhodes.

Under ordinary circumstances, the 1942 scholarships would be awarded this fall, Mr. Michener said.

Some of the awards were delayed this year because some of the applicants were on active service with Canadian armed forces in Great Britain and had to be interviewed by a special committee in Great Britain.

McKim's Directory Now Off the Press

According to the 34th edition of McKim's Directory of Canadian Publications, just off the press, Canada now has 1,808 publications. Of this total, well over one-third, 666, are published in Ontario. Quebec ranks next with 390. Over half of all Canadian publications are weeklies—984 as compared with 112 dailies and 462 monthlies.

It is interesting to note that Canada supports 64 foreign language publications among which there are four dailies in Chinese, two in Japanese and two in Jewish. Foreign publications in Canada are printed in 16 languages which includes Croatian, Czechoslovak, Danish, Dutch, Finnish, German, Hungarian, Icelandic, Italian, Norwegian, Polish, Swedish and Ukrainian.

McKim's Directory has become practically a national institution and is widely circulated at home and abroad. The publication summarizes exhaustive information on markets, media and populations throughout Canada, constituting an industrial analysis reference of all towns in which publications are printed. Inquiries concerning this directory should be addressed to any one of the A. McKim Limited offices in Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Vancouver and in London, England.

Letters to the Editor

WAR LESSON NO. 1

Lady Oxford, writing in the Daily Sketch, says:

"I wonder if at the outset of the war there had been no neutrals. I cannot imagine remaining neutral in a war of such noble aims as the war which we are fighting today. I am convinced that if all the Scandinavian and all the Balkan states had stood together and said they would never depend upon the British people to defend them, it would have been more difficult for the Germans to have trampled down the freedom and happiness of so many peace-loving people."

In the Victoria Daily Times, June 4, 1941, Dorothy Thompson urged Canadian women in union with other women of the world to set their wills against war after the current one is over and for one thing, obtain "an international federal control of the air for all time."

I believe there is much sound logic to be found in the above quotations, but what conclusions can we gain from them? Here are mine:

To establish "an international police force," to be supported by all the free, peace-loving nations of the world. This force would have but one aim, the peace of the world. It would have no constitution, no legal barriers to stop its decisions. It would have right of way on land, sea or in the air. It would have the right to limit all arms of war (by force if necessary) to seize or destroy them. It would not declare war on any nation, but would have the right to stop any nation from starting aggression on another nation. It would have the right to control or stop trade between nations.

It would give any nation that was attacked all the aid in its power. It would have the right to decide who was the aggressor. In peacetime its work would be to help in world disasters, such as earthquakes, floods or any distress on a large scale in need of aid.

If such a force was organized now, maybe it could not stop this war, but I believe it would give all peace-loving nations a chance to aid the nations fighting for freedom in any way most needed.

MISSING LINK IN CANADIAN LEADERSHIP

For some reason Canadian governmental leaders sadly fail to hold out a hope that in this land, "more blessed by Providence than any other on the face of the globe," there can be freedom from poverty, want and unemployment. Of course, it will be necessary to free the nation from binding financial fetters, but it can be done.

President Roosevelt said over the radio: "We will accept only a world consecrated to freedom of speech and expression—freedom of every person to worship God in his own way—freedom from want—and freedom from terrorism."

"Is such a world impossible of attainment?"

"Magna Charta, the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States, the Emancipation Proclamation, and every other milestone in human progress—all were ideals which seemed impossible—yet they were attained."

"Without the vision my people perish." Unless man has some objective, some Promised Land to look forward to, he begins to perish. We need a far greater objective than beating Hitler, vital as it is. In three words—freedom from want—President Roosevelt was wonderfully supplied the leadership in this respect. May our Canadian leaders see this light and follow the gleam with all their might. Then we shall do far more than "work for victory"—we shall work more mightily for the fruits of victory, which shall, this time, under the Providence of the Almighty, be blessed with a peace and prosperity that surpasses all former knowledge or understanding.

See Menace To Unionism

The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council last night criticized the attitude of federally-appointed labor conciliators as unfair in the treatment of working men with grievances.

A circular letter from the Canadian Hosiery Workers' Union, Local No. 18, informed all organized labor bodies in Canada of the manner in which their strike had been broken by a conciliator supported by government authority.

Members of the hosiery workers' union, an Oshawa group, claimed their union contract had been ignored and conditions of a company union agreement had been forced upon them without a proper survey of conditions.

"The government claimed our strike was illegal, and after 10 days our members returned to work," the Oshawa letter said. "Their morale was higher than ever, but it was obvious that the government meant to smash our strike and our union."

"The government seems to be intent on crushing our militant union, since the Minister of Labor has been able to establish a Royal Commission to investigate 'the culpability of the employees (who struck) and those who incited, aided or encouraged' us to fight the good fight," it added in part.

THREAT TO ALL UNIONS

After giving the union moral support, the local trades and labor council decided to check on its affiliations before granting financial support to its union fight. Local delegates considered the action in the hosiery mills case a threat to every union in Canada.

The Labor Council, following a report by the legislative committee on speeches made in the House of Commons by C.C.F. members, deplored the condition which permitted one man, the Minister of Justice, to control imprisonment or release of Canadians under the Defence of Canada Regulations.

Members noted full co-operation could not be expected from labor by the government if orders-in-council were not submitted to the Labor Supply Council, where organized labor has representation, prior to their application.

NAVY SPRAY GUNS PROTESTED

The council decided to protest to naval authorities use of spray guns in painting ships, claiming shipyards were using laborers instead of painters for the work, and noting the British Admiralty required use of brushes to insure efficient application.

A request for a conciliator to visit Victoria to confer with delegates of the Moulders' Union on a wage dispute will be forwarded by the council to federal authorities.

Affiliation of Local No. 643 of the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Ironworkers was reported, and G. Sainsbury was accepted as delegate. Credentials were also received from the Painters, Decorators and Paper-hangers of America.

Stolen Car Hearing

Preliminary hearing of Albert Mussfelt and Kenneth R. Dunlap, two young soldiers charged in Provincial Police Court with unlawfully receiving and having in their possession an automobile, the property of Sidney May, Victoria, knowing it to have been stolen, was partly completed yesterday.

The hearing was remanded until next Wednesday by Magistrate H. C. Hall in order that the Crown could call a witness to identify license plates.

Mr. May, owner of the car, said he left it parked at the rear of the Scott Apartments last Friday night and next day it was missing.

Corporal Eric Parker said he was walking along the Island Highway at Mill Bay Saturday afternoon when the two accused picked him up. They took him as far as the Malahat Lookout.

Constable Frank Clarke of the Provincial Police said he noticed the two men parked on a side road off the Malahat. They were acting suspiciously, he said, and when asked whose car they had, the accused Mussfelt said he did not know. They were taken to police headquarters for questioning and later arrested.

Physical Classes Attendance Down

Lowest May attendance in four years for various Y.M.C.A. classes was shown in the monthly report of the physical education department. Warren Martin gave the report, revealing an attendance of 3,003 at 156 sessions. Figures for the corresponding period in past years were: 1940, 3,537 attending; 1939, 3,704 attending; 1938, 3,706 attending.

Special events held during the month included the Y.M.C.A. swimming championships. Track and field activities were begun with large attendances, practices being held three times weekly. The report referred to the winning of eight provincial swimming championships by a party of Victoria swimmers in Vancouver.

Victoria Youth In Bombed Plant

Blasted through the wall of an airplane factory in Britain by a Nazi bomb, Michael Darling, 20, of Victoria, is back in Canada, seeking enlistment with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Darling arrived at Winnipeg today, his purse empty, and told the story of his miraculous escape.

He had been working for 18 months as a welder in an airplane factory of De Havilland aircraft in Britain when German bombers staged a raid on the factory in October last year. Darling was standing inside a plant building when a 250-pound bomb fell 20 yards behind him, killing 25 fellow employees.

The blast blew out the lower half of a wall and he was blown outside with it. "It was like someone hitting you across the small of the back with a big feather pillow," he said.

SAVED FROM SHRAPNEL

Luckily, some supplies which were piled up behind Darling acted as a shield, protecting him from the shrapnel. A German bullet crashed into his gas mask as the bombers machine-gunned the blasted structure.

Darling, who said he will try to hitch-hike the rest of the way to Victoria, said that on another occasion he smothered an incendiary bomb which fell through the roof of a house in which he was spending Christmas.

The youth was exempted from military service on account of his employment in war industry. He wanted to join the R.C.A.F., but was told he could do so only if he returned to Canada.

Canterbury TEA

Tea in the best tradition

Canterbury TEA

Canterbury is famously fine tea
...yet you save on every pound!

Loaded to the gunwales with choice tea, early clipper ships raced the high seas attempting to shatter the Ariel's record established in 1866, of 99 days from Foochow to London.

Today the sailing vessels are gone, but luxury teas are still imported for the Canterbury blend.

That's why Canterbury's flavor is so lusty and loyal, why its fragrance is so keen and refreshing! Every young leaf picked in its prime! Every pound guaranteed to satisfy!

It's thrifty, too! By delivering Canterbury direct to your grocer, the importer avoids extra handling, saves you money on a luxury blend.

And notice the new-style rigid carton! It's easier to open, handier to use, better protection for Canterbury's traditional flavor.

Next time, ask for Canterbury. It's one of the best teas packed...still you save money using it!

War Changes Values In Britain, Says Miss MacDonald

By GLADYS ARNOLD

OTTAWA (CP)—The war, says Miss Sheila MacDonald, has given Britons a new appreciation of each other. Old prejudices are being thoroughly broken.

In fact, said the new chateleine of Earncliffe, those who think Britain will return to conditions of the pre-war period once this war is won do not realize how profound the change has been.

"The greatest change is in the consciousness we have in Britain of knowing we are needed," Miss MacDonald told the Canadian Press yesterday at the residence of her brother, Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, British High Commissioner to Canada.

PSYCHOLOGICAL CHANGE

"The knowledge that one is useful—that one's work and talent are valuable to the country and that one has something to give—is the psychological change which British youth, and all Bri-tons for that matter, will never give up again."

Across the sea, she said, people were realizing that much of the community and social service and inter-aid work undertaken since war started could have been done in peacetime with telling advantage.

"A vast amount of this work can be continued after the war and English women are already considering their organizations as a part of new postwar society," she said.

She said this new social consciousness was becoming deeply rooted in people who never before knew what it meant to "feel useful." The change was begun when compulsory service in England put the young manhood of the country on a footing of equality.

LORD AS BATMAN

"One of my friends has a lord for his batman," laughed Miss MacDonald. "It's wonderful."

She described how the "batman-lord" took his senior officer and commoner to the House of Lords for lunch and "the waiter handed the batman the bill."

Today there are former employees who are high ranking officers and former employers in the ranks. In factories advancement is based on skill, intelligence, efficiency and initiative. But most important, said Miss MacDonald, is the new appreciation for one another held now by all Britons.

"People," she declared, "are seeing one another through new eyes."

King Philip IV of Spain was seen to laugh in public only three times during his entire life.

In order to frighten the invaders, Britons who fought Caesar's legion in 54 B.C., were daubed with dark blue war paint.

Community Work Centred Now at Welfare House

Focal point of the community service carried on by various social agencies, the new Welfare House, 1234 Pandora Avenue, as "at home" to a large number of visitors yesterday who saw for themselves the excellent, comprehensive and efficient service now available to all who need it in Greater Victoria.

With certain structural alterations, new paint and bright curtains, the house has undergone a transformation under the able supervision of a committee headed by Mr. E. W. McMullen and Mr. John Goldie. By their location under the one roof, the dovetailing of the work of the following agencies has been greatly facilitated: Children's Aid Society, Community Chest of Greater Victoria, Council of Social Agencies, Family Welfare Association, John Howard Society, Social Service Index and Victorian Order of Nurses.

Members of the various staffs were on hand to act as cicerones, and tea was served in the boardroom, Mrs. C. de V. Schofield, Mrs. George Hall, Mrs. R. H. McInnes and Miss Sara Spencer presiding at a table centred with a bowl of exquisite orchid iris.

Acting as hostesses for the afternoon were: Mrs. Kenneth Barr, executive secretary of the Community Chest and Social Service Index; Miss Yates of the Family Welfare Association; Miss Lyna Mess of the Children's Aid Society; Mrs. W. E. M. Mitchell of the John Howard Society, and Miss A. Creasor of the Victorian Order of Nurses.

SOCIAL SERVICE INDEX

The value of the Social Service Index was shown in the Community Chest office, where Miss Hazel Corry explained the method of tabulating and classifying all the details concerning families coming within its purview and Mrs. J. Braithwaite, the bookkeeper, told of her methods of keeping records.

In the Family Welfare Department, Miss Yates showed samples of records, each one made out with a fictitious name so that the visitors might see how the case histories are filed. Pamphlets issued by the Canadian Welfare Council, and which are available from the Provincial Department of Health, on the subject of health and child care, were displayed.

Mrs. K. Spurgin, whose work at present is directly connected with the organizing of the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp which opens on July 9, was present to discuss the plans with visitors interested.

CHILDREN'S AID

The many ramifications of Children's Aid work were explained in the department in charge of Miss Lyna Mess, including the family work department which handles cases of adoption, neglect, juvenile delinquency and the problem of the unmarried mother. She told of the great success of the foster home system and also spoke of the progress of the 38 guest children from overseas who have been placed in private homes under the care of the Children's Aid Society.

In charge of the various departments under the supervision of Miss Mess are: Family work, Miss Barbara Van Kleek and Miss Mildred Wright; overseas children's department, Mrs. Gwen Hughes, R.N.; child placing and supervision department and foster homes, Miss Rae Kirkendale, R.N., and Miss Isabel Sullivan, B.A.

A display of the many attractive garments made by the Woman's Auxiliary to the Children's Aid evoked much admiration.

VICTORIAN ORDER

Upstairs, in a bright and cheery suite of offices, the Victorian Order of Nurses showed some thing of its work. Clever little models illustrate various phases of bedside nursing, and photographs of the prenatal sewing classes and examples of the dainty layettes made revealed the value of this educational feature to expectant young mothers.

Miss A. Creasor, R.N., the head nurse, and her staff of registered nurses, Mrs. Forrest, Miss Fraser, Miss Wade and Miss Latomel, showed the visitors around. The department is divided into office, receiving rooms and a utility room, where the nurses deposit their famous "little black bags" and where an electric sterilizer and supply cupboard are kept.

JOHN HOWARD SOCIETY

Mrs. W. E. M. Mitchell was on hand in the office of the John Howard Society to tell of the work being done primarily arising from problems connected with single unemployed. So far she has recorded 250 cases this year and 74 cases was an average for a month.

Employment rehabilitation, and countless problems which face the discharged prisoner were brought to the attention of this society throughout the year, and guidance and financial assistance were provided.

MILITARY WEDDING—Lance-Corporal Odell Forrest Gainsfort, Provost Corps, and his bride, the former Myrtle May Empey, leaving the "Y" Hut at Macaulay Point yesterday afternoon after their marriage in St. Christopher's Chapel by the chaplain, Capt. the Rev. E. W. Horton. The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Empey, 806 Cook Street, wore a flowered gown, with a corsage of carnations, and was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Ann Empey. Lance-Corporal G. M. Diamond was best man and Sgt.-Major J. Davidson played the wedding music. Men of the Provost Corps formed the guard of honor as the young couple left for the bride's home where a reception was held before they left for their honeymoon up-island. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Gainsfort, Toronto.

C.C.F. Women Form Saanich Council

At the home of Mrs. A. Kellow, Burnside Road, a group of women representing several districts of Saanich met on Tuesday afternoon to consider forming a women's C.C.F. organization.

Mrs. K. A. Bell and Mrs. M. McDonald spoke briefly on the need for such a step. Although women were active in the C.C.F. clubs it was pointed out that there were many sympathizers who would be attracted to a group organized to work on a definite educational and social program, and also to share in choosing parliamentary candidates and raising funds to finance their campaigns.

Mr. Martin Neilson, district C.C.F. organizer, was present and explained the ways in which such an organization could be formed under the C.C.F. constitution. After some discussion it was decided to form a Saanich Women's C.C.F. Council to include club members and individual members at large. Officers elected were: Mrs. K. A. Bell, president; Mrs. G. Brooks, vice-president; Mrs. M. McDonald, secretary; Mrs. M. Phillips, treasurer.

The next meeting will be held on Friday, July 4, at 2 p.m., at the New Forum Club Room, Hamley Building, Broughton Street.

Knox Presbyterian Young Women's Auxiliary met Tuesday evening at the home of the Misses McPhail, 2643 Forbes Street, the president, Miss Peggy McPhail, presiding. After the opening devotional, various matters were discussed. Flowers have been sent to two of our members who are on the sick list. The next meeting on July 15 will take the form of a beach party at Loon Bay. The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction, after which a social half-hour was spent, refreshments being served by the hostesses.

National Defence Slogan of W.I.

FREDERICTON (CP)—"National defence" and "all out for victory" were chosen today as the theme and slogan for the ensuing biennial term of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada.

The F.W.I.C. national convention also decided to name a representative to the federal citizenship education committee, which has asked Canadian organizations to appoint members to it. This appointment arose from discussion on the national legislation report given by Mrs. Guy Humphrey, Harpoon, N.B.

Mrs. R. E. Wood, member of the Alberta Legislature, explained the larger school administrative unit in the province, following the presentation of the report of the convener of education, Mrs. J. P. Ferguson, Trochu, Alta. The scheme is growing in favor, said Mrs. Wood. One unit started with 89 pupils and increased to 208 in two years.

Many refugees from Hitler-dominated countries are settling in Canada, Mrs. Fred McLaren, North River, P.E.I., national convener of Canadianization and immigration, said in her report.

"While we cannot expect the adult immigrant to forget his native land or cease to regret cruel fate that has driven him from it, it is our duty to impress on the young Canadian-born as well as the foreign-born an appreciation of the privileges we enjoy; to teach them the vast difference between life in democracy and life in a totalitarian state," she said.

PUPILS' RECITAL

Mothers and friends of music pupils of Miss Noel Smith attended a recital at her studio and expressed delight with the progress of the children. In addition to the piano numbers there were two violin solos, played by nine-year-old Eileen Bordessa. Mrs. B. C. Bordessa played her accompaniments. Miss Jean Grant sang two charming numbers. Taking part in the program were the following pupils: Maureen Walsh, Ellen Prevost, Angela Dick, Julia Powell, Ann Maclean, Barbara Bates, Margaret Drage, Kathleen Keeble, Eve Powell, Daphne Collison, Joan Bates, Mary Butters, Nancy Grant, Tommy Rae, Bruce and Richard Davenport and Stuart Scott.

FAILURE of the senior A men's division to operate this season is the reason for the falling off of interest in softball in Victoria. We have that from Alf Longley, genial secretary of the Lower Island Association. "When the men's senior teams are playing it seems to stimulate interest," Longley said. "More people follow the games and as a result the sport thrives. Until such time as Victoria can operate such a circuit it is not likely the sport will regain the tremendous popularity it enjoyed here for several seasons."

Some softballers lay the blame on the doorstep of the Longshoremen, present holders of the British Columbia senior men's championship. They point out the freight-handlers built up a provincial championship club at the expense of the other teams. As one follower told us: "It is not that the Longshoremen have every player in town signed up, but they have grabbed the outstanding men at their respective positions with the result other clubs in the city have lost interest and refuse to go into a senior league." Clear proof of the lack of interest is shown by the fact that the other night one of the senior B clubs failed to even turn out for its scheduled exhibition game with the Longshoremen.

Softball prospects for next year are not bright, unless the war ends, according to Longley. The sport has been seriously affected by present conditions, with many of the ranking players out of town with the services. Then again the local league has lost the Army and Navy teams. Last year the navy had two clubs in the circuit and the army one. This season, despite the fact both services have much better playing material available, they are playing in their own services league. Both could enter first-class squads in a senior men's league, but confine their activities to their own league.

Longley scoffed at the suggestion that softball has given away to baseball in local sport interest. "We are drawing just as many people as the baseballers and despite the apparent dropping off of the softball crowds the baseball clubs have not shown any sudden increase at the gate."

Those fans who think they have seen a good performance of shadow baseball want to visit the Capitol Theatre and watch Gary Cooper pull his act in "Meet John Doe." Cast in the role of a broken-down bush league pitcher, who has thrown one hook too many and wound up with a heavy right flipper, the elongated Cooper really enacts an imaginary ball game in a hotel room. He gets grand support from his hobo pal (Walter Brennan), a screwy newspaperman and a bodyguard. They even throw in the peanuts for good measure.

Cooper's actions as he winds up to deliver are good, while he is seen in the best of baseball form as he attempts to pick a runner off first base. Brennan, working as his catcher, is good for a laugh on his squawks to the umpire and the whole act flavors of real baseball. It does credit to the directing genius of Frank Capra.

And finally, the film has a tear-jerking finale that will drag at least a bit of moisture from the coldest of you film followers. And, oh yes, we forgot to mention that Barbara Stanwyck is as beautiful as ever in the feminine lead. Put on your must list, folks.

North Shore Soccer Champs

Beat Radials 4 to 2

VANCOUVER (CP)—Proving themselves superior mudders North Shore United slipped their way over a rain-soaked field here last night to a 4 to 2 victory over Radials and retained the Province Cup, emblematic of British Columbia soccer supremacy. North Shore won the first of the best-of-three series 3 to 1 here last Saturday.

It was history repeating itself, for North Shore won the Province Cup last year by defeating the same team. The previous year Radials won the trophy and went on to take the Dominion championship, which was not contested last year.

BETTER TEAM

Surging forth with a second-half burst of superior teamwork and ball control North Shore left no doubt as to the better team. Play was fairly even during the initial session and honors were split at the half in a 2 to 2 dead-lock.

Eric Camp opened the scoring for Radials five minutes after the kickoff when he drove in a long shot that goalie Arnie Bumstead misjudged. North Shore equalized shortly after on a neat goal by Basil Robinson who blasted home a hard shot from just outside the penalty area.

Midway through the period Mike McManus sent United's one up when he fired Robinson's rebound into the net. Hap Smith regained that one in short order for Radials when he tapped in a dribbler during a scramble around the North Shore goal-mouth.

Fifteen minutes after the change-over Don Matheson broke through to score what proved to be the winning goal. After cracking the Radial defence Matheson passed to Trev Harvey who returned the ball for Matheson to finish off.

Radial spares were rushed on to the field but failed to halt the determined Uniteds.

The final chapter was written when Don Cowan, Radial full-back, presented North Shore with a gift goal 10 minutes from time. In attempting to clear Jim Spencer's hard drive, he mis-kicked and the ball slithered into his own net.

Navy Triumphs Over Stevedores

It took the Navy to give Victoria's high-riding Longshoremen-Causeway Service softball team its one and only setback of the season last night.

Playing in an exhibition in aid of the Lord Mayor's Fund, the boys in blue downed the smart Longshoremen outfit 7 to 2.

Despite the fact the diamond was slightly waterlogged, good action was seen by the crowd, whose admission tickets realized $26 for the fund to aid air raid victims in Britain.

The sailors' success was due mainly to the fact they were able to bunch base hits and come through in the pinches. Longshoremen batted eight base hits, one more than the Navy team, but they were spread out too far.

Navy's big inning was the third when the sailor softballers walked more than half of their safeties and scored five of their seven runs.

Getting back to the stevedores' performance though, they left 10 men on bases in the nine innings. Navy failed to score five men.

Doing the pitching for Navy was Stebbings, a speed artist who collected 10 strikeouts. Bonner for Longshoremen fanned five.

The smart Royal Canadian Navy band, under the leadership of Lieutenant H. G. Cuthbert, played before the start of the game.

TAYLOR TRIBUTE

A minute's silence in tribute to Jack Taylor, former president of the Lower Island Softball Association who passed away suddenly Monday evening, was observed by the two ball clubs and the crowd.

Commotion Wins English Oaks

NEWMARKET, Eng. (CP)—With a brilliant driving finish, J. A. Dewar's filly Commotion today won the Oaks by two lengths over Lt.-Col. P. G. Robinson's Turkane.

Lord Glenelg's Dancing Time, the odds on favorite, was third in the classic for three-year-old fillies, in which 10 started. The race, like the Derby, was held at Newmarket this year instead of Epsom because of war conditions.

Commotion, ridden by Harry Wragg and trained by Fred Darling, who saddled yesterday's Derby winner Owen Tudor, trailed the field until the final two furlongs. Wragg then threaded through the field, took the rail and passed the leaders, Dancing Times and Turkane. The filly covered the 1 1/4-mile course in 2:37, five seconds slower than Owen Tudor's Derby time over the same course.

After the three leaders, the order of finish was Beausite, Precocity, Roman Express, Firle, Mercy, Sunny Dear and Faience.

CANCEL SOFTBALL

Alf Longley, secretary of the Lower Island Softball Association, last night announced the cancellation of all women's league softball games previously scheduled for tomorrow evening.

Cleveland Red Hot

Hits Aid Feller

If Cleveland Indians' batting power, plus Bobby Feller's masterful pitching continues, the Indians are almost a certainty to dethrone Detroit as American Baseball League champions.

The Indians stretched their lead to three games over New York Yankees with a 14 to 2 victory over Philadelphia. Feller allowed four hits for his 14th victory of the season and his mates came through with a total of 17 safeties, including five home runs and four doubles.

First-baseman Hal Trosky led the assault with two round-trippers while Lou Boudreau, Ken Keltner and Ray Mack each connected for one homer. The Indians sewed up the game in the second inning when they hit safely eight times for a total of seven runs.

Feller gave only two walks and struck out eight Mackmen to boost his strikeout total to 119 for the season.

Meanwhile Chicago White Sox edged out a 3 to 2 decision over the Yankees at New York, although held to five hits by Spud Chandler. Charley Keller accounted for both Yankee runs with a two-run homer in the second inning.

In other American League games Detroit defeated Boston Red Sox 5 to 2 and St. Louis Browns made it 3 to 2 over Washington Senators in a night game. St. Louis Cardinals extended their National League lead to three games over Brooklyn Dodgers with a 7 to 3 triumph over Philadelphia Phillies. Rookie Johnny Hopp started the scoring in the opening inning with a two-run homer and the Cards never relinquished the lead.

Hank Leiber was the whole show as Chicago Cubs whipped the Dodgers 5 to 1 at Chicago. Leiber homered in the second inning with the bases empty and hit another four-bagger with two mates on board in the third.

Joe Medwick returned to Brooklyn's line-up and hit a ninth-inning homer to deprive Vern Olsen of his third straight victory. Olsen allowed the Dodgers five hits for his fourth victory of the year compared to two defeats.

Two night games were played. New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates battled to an 11-inning 2 to 2 tie and Boston Braves made it 4 to 2 over Cincinnati.

COAST LEAGUE

The erratic Oakland Aacorns, who find the going tough against second division teams, had an easy time wallopping the Sacramento Senators, Coast League leaders, by a 6 to 0 score last night.

The victory moved Oakland from its cellar berth past Portland and Hollywood to sixth place and cut down Sacramento's league lead to 12 games.

Eleven pitchers saw service in a weird game between Hollywood and San Diego, with San Diego winning 15 to 12 after a three-hour orgy in which a total of 34 hits were amassed by the two teams.

A see-saw game most of the way at Portland, with the lead changing eight times, ended when San Francisco scored two runs in the ninth and defeated Portland 6 to 5.

The scheduled game between Seattle and Los Angeles was postponed because of rain.

Louis Catches Game Conn in 13th Round

'Was Hard Boy To Hit'—Louis

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Louis gambled and won another "13-inning game" last night as he knocked out Billy Conn in the 18th defence of his heavyweight crown.

"I knew I was losing and had to win by a knockout," said the Bomber as he sat in the comparative quiet of his dressing-room while a throng whooped it up in Conn's quarters over the Pittsburgh boy's gallant stand.

"After all, it was just another 13-inning game," cracked the baseball-loving Louis. "But he was a mighty hard boy to get to. I had to gamble to get over with my left and that almost cost me the fight."

Crediting Conn with a great fight, Louis said Billy did a fine job of keeping his head.

Louis also revealed that Conn told him in the ninth round: "Joe, you're in for a tough fight tonight."

That was after Conn had taken the play away from the champion and appeared headed for victory.

CONN HAPPY

Conn, joyous over the fact that he not only stood up for nearly 13 rounds but that he hurt the Bomber in the 12th with one of the many left hooks he landed, said he didn't know whether he was ahead.

"I didn't care," said Conn. "All I wanted to do was fight. I did that, didn't I? And I hurt him."

Though he had slight cuts under and over his left eye, Conn said he never was hurt until Joe started his barrage of rights and lefts in the final round.

"I don't know how many punches he threw," said Conn. "There were plenty of them. But don't forget I didn't quit. I went out fighting."

Naturally, Billy said he wanted another fight and across the way Louis said he was willing to give it to him.

Asked if he had heard the count in the 13th round, Conn replied: "Sure I did. I got up, didn't I?"

LAWN BOWLING

Women bowlers from the Canadian Pacific Club have won the Butchart Cup competition. In the final series of the competition the C.P. team defeated Burnside 38 to 28 for a record of three victories against one defeat.

Had Champ Whipped at Sudden End

NEW YORK (CP)—Billy Conn danced a dozen rounds last night in the shadow of the dark destroyer, cutting down the heavyweight champion as he went along. The title was within his reach. Then, in the 13th round, Joe Louis knocked him out, flattened him with a few punches.

A crowd of 54,487 paid $450,000 to see this spectacle in the Polo Grounds. Thousands of the cheering mob were from Pittsburgh where Conn was born and raised on the wrong side of the tracks—a tough Irishman.

For 12 rounds Louis, making his 18th defence of the heavyweight title, was out-fought. The lashing gloves of a light heavyweight were blinding him, stabbing his placid features, taking away from Joe the greatest prize in fistiana.

The pride of Pittsburgh, 174 pounds, seemed about to scale fistie heights achieved by only two great little men in the heavyweight division, James J. Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons. Conn weighed 25 1/2 pounds less than Louis.

It occurred to everybody in the Polo Grounds at about the same moment that Conn was beating the champ. Through the 11th and 12th rounds, Billy had pasted the Bomber with right-hand punches. They were blows that befuddled Joe, hurt him and slowed him down.

The 13th started slowly as Conn danced away before confidently crossing his right to the head. So far behind on points that only a knockout could save his title, Joe stalked Conn with his right cocked. But he's done that before.

PAYOFF PUNCH

Now he hooked his left, straightening the challenger, and smashed home the right. That was the payoff punch. Conn was hurt though he fought back. Along the ropes Louis drove in more rights

Where to Stay and Play On Vancouver Island

By E. L. FORBES

Here we are coasting rapidly into the last week of June. Strawberries are about over, cherries nearly ripe. Ten more days and public schools will close for the long summer vacation, spilling a happy, shouting mass of boys and girls out under the blue sky to swim, hike, run or just laze the hours away. About now, parents are busy making plans for holiday expeditions far from the city's noise and dust. Many a discussion is going on as to relative merits of mountain, lake or seashore.

If it's a Vancouver Island vacation, there is no need for lengthy talk. From Victoria to Campbell River there are many ideally situated vacation spots where parents can really relax and rest while children play safely all day long. There's fun for all ages and accommodation to suit every pocketbook. Make up your mind quickly, pack up and get there as soon as you can. Enjoy every minute of the summer. Watch the children grow bright-eyed, rosy cheeked and sun tanned.

Looking through the indispensable notebook I give you the following suggestions:

Parksville. Just right for family vacation life. Safe sand beach, wide sandbar, warm sea bathing. Modern stores in village. All types of accommodation including EDGEWATER PARK TOURIST CAMP, with its new, modern cottages, the popular HARRISON'S PARKVILLE BEACH CAMP with cottages and cabins and the delightfully appointed ISLAND HALL HOTEL. All right on the beach. All with a beautiful view.

Royston. A little community on the Island Highway, not far from Courtenay. Has everything in the way of outdoor fun. Good stores and garages. The shoreline looks out to the Comox Peninsula and to snow-capped mountains far off on the mainland shore. Fishing is always good. Same with bathing and swimming. Two comfortable auto camps. ROYSTON BEACH AUTO CAMP with furnished or unfurnished cabins, hot and cold showers and up-to-date sanitation. LANG'S BEACH RESORT with modern cottage accommodation. Camps feature city water and electric light.

Qualicum Beach. I doubt if this summer playground needs any introduction. Its popularity grows with every new season. A curving beach of clean white sand, a sandbar that reaches far out into the warm salt water, good bathing and swimming, a sporty golf course and accommodation that ranges from cabin to de luxe hotels, make Qualicum an ideal holiday spot. Among the popular camps are BAYVIEW PARK with its lovely woodland acreage, private beach and modern cottages and GRANDVIEW CAMP with cabin and cottage accommodation right on the beach. SUNSET INN and the QUALICUM BEACH HOTEL offer the visitor delightful appointments, friendly surroundings and courteous service.

Yellow Point. A summer playground that is not nearly as well known as it should be. It has everything in the way of outdoor pleasures. Lovely wooded trails for hiking and riding, safe sand beaches for swimming and bathing, smooth rock formations for sun bathing. TILlicum SEASIDE COTTAGE CAMP is an ideal spot for the family vacation. Here you'll find modern cottages on a grassy slope under big shade trees. There is a dining lodge where delicious meals are served. Store on the grounds. Try it once, you'll go back again and again.

Travel Editors To Visit Victoria

Twenty-five persons, including travel page editors and managers of motor tourist agencies, will arrive in Victoria next Wednesday from the United States on a tour under the auspices of the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association in conjunction with local publicity bureaus.

Major Gordon Smith, director of the Provincial Travel Bureau, said the group will be given an informal luncheon by the provincial government at the Empress Hotel, and later taken for a drive around Victoria. He indicated that the tour is part of a plan under which persons in contact with the travelling public will be brought to British Columbia to see for themselves the attractions of the province.

'Salute to Freedom' By Salvation Army

In the spirit of the times and with a deep sense of their national obligations, the Salvation Army of Victoria plans a "Salute to Freedom" on Sunday afternoon next. This unusual event will take place at the Metropolitan United Church at 2.30, and the public is invited to be present.

Distinguished representatives of the naval, army and air forces will be present, and the music will be furnished by the 2nd Battalion Irish Fusiliers Band of Vancouver, assisted by a full choir and several talented vocalists. Takes Mining Bill to Court

Seth Witton, general merchant of Zeballos, started action before Mr. Justice Robertson in Supreme Court today against Leonard Leney, Isaac Rosenthal, A. S. Lock, Alex Sinclair and the Tagore Zeballos Syndicate for $1,060.45, an amount allegedly due him for groceries and supplies he provided for the defendants.

Plaintiff, represented by J. Howard Harman, claims the goods were ordered on behalf of the defendants by Isaac Rosenthal.

Defendants, for whom W. A. Brethour is counsel, contend there never was a syndicate or partnership. They deny Rosenthal had authority to purchase goods or groceries and charge them to the alleged syndicate and state that if any goods were purchased, they were bought on Rosenthal's own initiative. A large part of the alleged debt, defendants claim, was made up of Rosenthal's personal cheques for which they could not be held responsible.

Other defendants contend they merely advanced money to Rosenthal for development work but did not empower him to contract debts in their name.

Mr. Leney, in a counter claim, seeks restoration of $650

Census Here Going Well

Officials of the census branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics who visited Victoria found local enumeration proceeding smoothly, Census Commissioner H. E. A. Courtney said today. The two officials, Dr. O. A. Lemieux and T. H. O'Reilly, came to interview census-takers of the district and straighten any problems encountered in the enumeration of the people of Victoria.

Dr. Lemieux commended local enumerators for their work to date. He said residents need have no fear that information given might be used for anything but statistical compilations. For instance, he declared, information gathered by the enumerators on income for the past year is not available to the income tax department.

Mr. Courtney said Victorians continued co-operative with the enumerators, but could make their task easier by having information on all members of the household ready. He said enumerators often had been asked to call back later to get answers to some questions.

A few persons had failed to see why their homes should be chosen for inclusion in records on housing conditions, Mr. Courtney said. He explained that information was gathered on every tenth dwelling, and that averages obtained would give a picture of normal conditions across the Dominion.

Because of the need for quick information to meet post-war conditions, compilation of statistics from the 1941 census will be accomplished in only two years, Mr. Courtney said. In the past, compilation has taken three years.

A.R.P. ACTIVITIES

Members of the public residing in the district extending from Cook Street to Harriet Road and between Hillside and Tolmie Avenue, will be welcome at a meeting of A.R.P. wardens at the North Ward School on Friday evening at 8. Sergeant Bishop of the City Police will talk on "The Relationship Between the Police, A.R.P. Wardens and the Public." More wardens are still required and the district warden, Col. Ross Napier, will be pleased to enroll any new members who attend this meeting.

Carrot-fly Ravages Crops

Carrot and parsnip crops of the province are suffering severely from ravages of the carrot fly, a tiny insect which bores into the roots and causes rot, according to agriculture department experts.

Reports indicate the insect is busy over the province generally. Some Vancouver Island areas report all carrots beds attacked.

This is the first time the pest has reached the coast, officials said. It first became known in the east about three years ago. Methods of combating the fly are being studied. The use of naphthalene or kerosene flakes spread between the rows has proved effective in some districts.

One motorist was fined $10 in City Police Court today for exceeding the 30-mile-per-hour limit, a second was fined $5 for not having a chauffeur's license and six were each fined $2.50 on parking charges.

B.C. Coal Output Off 6,000 Tons

For the first time in months British Columbia's coal output showed a reduction for May, according to the report of the chief inspector of mines.

Production of all collieries was 131,812 tons, compared with 137,717 tons in May last year.

Vancouver Island was responsible for the reduction, the output from island collieries dropping from 54,656 tons to 47,583 tons. East Kootenay maintained its high output of 73,517 tons against 72,001 tons last year. Nicola-Princeton area produced 10,080 tons against 10,694 tons and the northern district 632 tons against 366. Coke produced at Michel totaled 6,226 tons.

TO BE SENTENCED FOR CAR STEALING

Desmond Paul Gee and Gavin Sinclair, two soldiers, were remanded for sentence until tomorrow by Magistrate H. C. Hall in City Police Court today, when they pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a car belonging to Melvin Clanton, Sidney, last Saturday.

Sergt. J. Blackstock of the city force said Mr. Clanton reported his car had been stolen soon after 7 Saturday evening.

At 7.30 Constable J. D. Blackstock attended an accident at Quadra Street and Topaz Avenue, the sergeant said.

The accident involved a car driven by Gordon Robertson, Brentwood, and Mr. Clanton's car, in which two soldiers were driving. The soldiers disappeared and were arrested later.

The stolen car was traveling north on Quadra Street and turning west on Topaz Avenue when the collision took place. Between $50 and $75 damage was done to the stolen car and about $265 to Mr. Robertson's car.

Neither of the accused had anything to say after Sergt. Blackstock had given the particulars of the case.

SCOTTISH CONCERT AT PARK TONIGHT

A concert of Scottish music and dances will be given this evening at 8 in Beacon Hill Park, to boost sale of Victory bonds. The affair was postponed last night because of inclement weather.

The bandstand will be specially illuminated for the occasion and a large crowd is expected.

Those taking part will be members of the United Scottish Societies, the First United Church choir, the Highland Lassies' Pipe Band and highland dancing pupils of Mrs. A. Grant Duncan.

Professor E. S. Farr of Victoria College faculty will be the speaker.

Summer activities will be discussed at a meeting of the Victoria High School Alumni Association this evening at 8 at the Cat 'n' Fiddle.

Five motorists who pleaded guilty to exceeding the 30-mile limit were each fined $10. One motorist was fined $2.50 for parking his car over the time limit in a restricted zone.

A driver who claimed his bus would not keep within the yellow line on the curve on Johnson Street extension by the E. & N. roundhouse if it was traveling at 35 miles an hour in pleading not guilty to speeding at the particular point, was fined $10 in City Police Court today when Sergeant Roy Woolsey and Constable George Claydars said a test of the bus showed that it could do that.

City detectives investigated a robbery which took place at a party in a house on Menzies Street last night. A woman in the party reported she left her purse on a desk in the hallway of the house and 20 minutes later found that a $10 bill and two $5 bills were missing. The men in the party were searched and later one of the $5 bills was found in the basement. The rest of the money was still missing.

Injured in Crash

Albert Campbell, 2547 Lincoln Avenue, suffered a broken collar bone, cuts and bruises, when his car struck a telephone pole on Esquimalt Road near Macaulay Street at 3.30 this morning and dropped 10 feet into the front yard of Mr. and Mrs. C. Guest's home at 959 Esquimalt Road, municipal police reported. The injured man was rushed to Jubilee Hospital, where he was attended by Dr. D. Berman.

Mr. Campbell's car was damaged considerably, the right side being smashed by the collision with the pole.

Rent Adjudicator Raps Control Act

Alderman B. J. Gadsden, member of the three-man Greater Victoria rental control committee which will be dissolved at the end of this month, feels the rigid restrictions of rental control regulations have worked a definite hardship on a certain class of home-owner in this region and have been such that it has been impossible to administer them in a fair manner.

In a letter to H. B. McKinnon, chairman of the federal wartime prices and trade board, he outlines his opinions to that effect. The communication acknowledges one from Mr. McKinnon thanking the alderman for his service.

"When I was first requested to become a member (of the board) I accepted without reservations, feeling I had been chosen through confidence that I would try to be fair. However, I don't continue service with the feeling that I have not been able to fulfill my desire to be fair and impartial, especially to the middle-class owner of housing accommodation." Alderman Gadsden's letter stated in part.

TOO CIRCUMSCRIBED

He agreed the objects of the board were worthy, but, after reviewing local conditions, expressed the view the local committee's powers were too circumscribed to permit it to act justly. The alderman noted local conditions were such that the Victoria region had only begun to benefit from a return to normal rental conditions at January 2, 1940, the basic date at which rents were frozen. Eastern Canadian points had benefited to a greater extent from improved conditions, he stated, while Victoria was still emerging from depression lows during which many home owners

B.C. Cinnabar Goes to Britain

Production of cinnabar—the only important ore of mercury—is creating a new townsite at Pinchie Lake, in the northern interior of British Columbia and is aiding greatly the manufacture of explosives for Great Britain, James Ferguson, 2805 Cook Street, pioneer prospector of this province, said on his return today from the north.

The Pinchie Lake property is the only known mercury mine in the British Empire. Its cinnabar is now being shipped as rapidly as possible to the British Isles.

A new 250-ton mill is being installed, replacing the original one, which is much too small. "A whole new town is now being built at Pinchie Lake," Mr. Ferguson said. "Development is tremendous. There are about 200 men employed in the mine and more are moving in all the time. Families, too, are starting to go north and before long there will be a school."

There is great activity throughout the northern interior, Mr. Ferguson said, and three companies are working in the Manson Creek area.

The Pinchie Lake mine is being operated by Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company.

Debate Menzies Speech

MELBOURNE (AP)—Some members of the Victorian Trades Hall Council suggested today Prime Minister Robert Menzies' radio address Tuesday contained threats to union leaders and also the union's rights to strike, but the meeting defeated a motion for discussion of the matter before next week's meeting of the Australian Council of Trade Unions.

Albert Monk, president of the Australian Council of Trade Unions, said the movement will support the fight against Hitlerism and Fascism whether Prime Minister Menzies is rightly or wrongly administering the country's internal affairs.

Boards Ask Conscription

DUNCAN—A resolution calling on the Dominion government to conscript and mobilize all manpower and to take control of all industries during the war was adopted today by the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island.

The resolution was put forward by the Saanich Board of Trade. Other boards represented were Tofino, Alberni, Malahat, Duncan, Nanaimo, Courtenay, Campbell River and Victoria.

Resolutions also were passed urging the provincial government to complete the Sproat Lake Tofino road, to take over Cathedral Grove as a park and preserve the stand of timber, and to carry out a large-scale program of reforestation on the island. Member boards of the association offered their co-operation in so-called forest farming.

PROTECT ROAD SIGNS

A resolution introduced by the Duncan Board of Trade and passed by the association protested against the destruction of road signs and asked the Minister of Education to undertake a campaign among school children to halt defacing of the signs.

Another resolution urged the Dominion government to provide better mail service to Tofino than the present semi-monthly calls.

Representing the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at the meeting were Duncan MacBride, president of the association; J. V. Johnson, president of the chamber; Harold Husband, W. T. Straith, R. J. Burland and George I. Warren.

Mr. MacBride addressed the annual dinner of the association last night on the war effort. The meeting ended today after a business session and luncheon.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Modern Pharmacy and Cunningham Drug Stores, or any drugist, and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your drugist will gladly return your money.

British Plane Locator Sets Up Radio Wave Curtain

By RENNIE TAYLOR

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—The inside story of Britain's radio-locator system, which warns of approaching Nazi air raiders, was revealed in part today by men who for years have shared the secret of its development.

Originator of the idea, said these sources, is Cyril F. Elwell, former Stanford University engineer who pioneered spectacular radio transmission projects around the world.

The informants, who for obvious reasons insisted on anonymity, said the system was a combination of radio and other electrical devices, representing inventions of many men, rather than a single new instrument in wireless technology.

BIG TOWERS SEND SIGNALS
Its most visible feature was said to be towers about 237 feet high, spaced about 10 miles apart along the English coast. From these towers, a curtain of radio waves is transmitted continuously into space.

The waves from this curtain are projected over the English Channel.

Whenever a plane approaches from the continent, it necessarily passes through these waves at some point.

When a plane enters a wave sector, radio energy in the waves strike it and "bounce" back toward their point of origin, which may be one or more of the radio towers.

Delicate electric instruments detect any wave thus reflected. Hence, every time a plane passes through a curtain, a detector registers its presence, and the beam intercepted locates the invader.

WE'VE TO ENGLAND
Stanford University records show Elwell went to England in 1936 and 1937 in connection with building 11 such towers as part of the British rearmament program.

Elwell convinced British authorities of the merit of the scheme, sources here said, after demonstrating the idea to United States government experts.

Since then Elwell helped build similar towers at Singapore.

Performance of the radiolocator system in England indicated hundreds of units were being employed, which would mean towers or similar broadcasting points had been multiplied many times over the original 11, which reached from Dover to Felixstowe.

fered to take 60 prospective soldiers into his unit and give them three days' military training. They will eat, sleep and train at the barracks without actually joining the active unit, and will be free to return to civilian life if they wish.

B.C. Apple Crop Estimate Down 30%

All tree fruit crops on Vancouver Island will be from 25 to 38 per cent lower than last year, and the province's main orchard harvest of apples will be 30.2 per cent below the 1940 level, according to the Department of Agriculture's tree fruit estimates for 1941 made public today.

The yield of apples is estimated for the province as a whole at 4,235,330 boxes, a drop of 1,832,022 boxes from last year's big production.

Agricultural officials said that it was apparently an off year for tree fruit. There was an early frost last November which did considerable damage to the trees and pollination had not been satisfactory owing to the early mild spring.

Northern part of the Okanagan Valley is where the main drop will take place. The estimate for Okanagan Valley as a whole is 3,742,580 boxes, against 5,599,130 boxes last year.

In the Kootenay Valley an increase of 11,196 boxes to a total of 387,050 boxes is estimated, and in the Fraser Valley an increase from 65,613 to 85,700 boxes.

All varieties of apples in the Okanagan are affected. McIntosh Reds, which make up more than a third of the usual crop, are down 40 per cent, to 1,181,000 boxes. Jonathans are down 31.6 to 454,280 boxes, and Delicious are off 24.5 per cent to 541,000 boxes.

The crab apple, pear, plum and cherry yields are estimated considerably lower, with pears, peaches and apricots higher.

On Vancouver Island the apple yield is placed at 20,000 boxes, down 25.2 per cent from last year; crab apples at 500 boxes, down 16.9 per cent; pears at 5,500 boxes, down 38.2 per cent; plums at 3,500, down 35 per cent; and cherries at 8,500 crates, down 27.3 per cent.

Cherry Growers Face Bad Year
KELOWNA (CP)—Heavy rains in May and early June which caused splitting of the crop and hampered picking of the remainder leaves Okanagan cherry growers facing the most disastrous season in years, they said today.

British Columbia Tree Fruits Limited, the growers' marketing agency, yesterday announced growers would be allowed to pick their entire Bing crop for processing. If the crop is left for the fresh fruit market it is feared growers face a total loss through improper quality and splitting. Royal Annes, Deacons and Windsors will also be processed.

60 MAY SAMPLE LIFE IN ARMY
Lieut.-Col. H. E. Goodman, district recruiting officer, termed excellent today a recruiting plan instituted in New Westminster, under which 60 young men may be given a three-day taste of army life with no obligation to enlist.

Col. Goodman said he would watch the results of the plan in New Westminster. He was unable to say whether a similar plan might be tried here.

In the mainland city, Lieut.-Col. W. Strachan, officer commanding the Edmonton Fusiliers, has offered to take 60 prospective soldiers into his unit and give them three days' military training. They will eat, sleep and train at the barracks without actually joining the active unit, and will be free to return to civilian life if they wish.

SAANICH FETE NETS $350 FOR RED CROSS

Although showery weather changed the venue to the house instead of the garden, the fete held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Snape, Maplewood Drive, yesterday afternoon netted over $350 for the Lake Hill unit of the Red Cross. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. W. B. Stockwood, convener, in receiving the guests, and Brig.-Gen. J. G. Austin officially opened the affair.

The various stalls were: Home cooking, Mrs. F. Ward; Lake Hill Institute stall, Mrs. Mercer; Mrs. L. Heather and Mrs. W. Carpenter; garden produce, Mrs. E. Miles and Mrs. McCallum; candy, Mrs. Dawkins; Mrs. E. Evans and Mrs. Kragg; ice cream, Mrs. Fox and Mrs. Mitchell; bran pie, Miss Duke; contest, Mrs. Redgrave and Mrs. Clarke; weaving demonstration, Mrs. Findlay; contests, Mrs. F. Yates; stall of miscellaneous articles, Junior Red Cross, Cloverdale School; mile of pennies, Miss K. Everest; flowers, Alison Snape; darts, Boy Scouts; tea, Mrs. Tait and Mrs. Isobel Durkin, assisted by members of the unit. Mrs. W. Head, Mrs. Service and Mrs. Everest were in charge of the tea tickets. Mrs. W. Finmore sold nosegays.

The musical program included selections by Mrs. Ruby Moore's orchestra of five pieces, and patriotic songs by the Junior Red Cross unit of Cloverdale School, under Mr. C. Routley.

ATLAS - MONDAY

Pointing her sturdy prow into the Pacific Ocean, H.M.S. Bounty—an exact replica of the famous mutiny ship of 150 years ago—faced her first camera barrage in a severe storm for scenes in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer sea drama, "Mutiny on the Bounty," which opened at the York Theatre today.

For two months the Bounty, straining at her hawsers, had awaited the storm which was required for thrilling, realistic scenes in the picture.

Then, after a long vigil storm signals came flashing down the Pacific coast from Vancouver. Already a week's provisions had been stored aboard, and with the first flash of the oncoming storm, Director Frank Lloyd and his camera and sound crews were hustled out of their beds at midnight for a dash to Los Angeles harbor.

With the overcast skies growing more sullen, director and crew clambered aboard H.M.S. Bounty. Salty old sailors unfurled the canvas and the new "mutiny" ship headed for the storm.

Director Lloyd and his company remained at sea for two weeks. Shortly after interiors were taken and then the Bounty and entire company sailed into the South Seas.

Jane Frazee, Universal's recent "discovery" in support of Abbott and Costello and the Andrews Sisters in "Buck Privates" coming Monday to the Atlas Theatre, breaks all precedent about being a Hollywood actress.

She has one interest—becoming an actress, and though she has appeared in only one picture previous to "Buck Privates"—it was "Melody in Moonlight"—she is already regarded as one of the "best bets" among the newcomers.

People seeing "Queen of Hearts" now at the Plaza Theatre, starring Gracie Fields, will not realize that a burst of energy was put into the shooting of the final scenes. Gracie was due to sail for South Africa on a certain date, and it was found about two days prior to this day, that at least 15 minutes of final film would be needed to complete the schedule. But the technicians, stars and directors put their backs to the wheel and by finishing the final 15 minutes of film created a record for a British studio.

HEAVY ALASKA TRAVEL

Passenger traffic from Seattle to Alaska is breaking all records and taxing the capacity of ships. Not even at the peak of gold-rush days was there such a demand for space on ships going north. Three ships of the Alaska Steamship Company, sailing from Seattle this week, will carry a total of 1,224 passengers. The Yukon, which sailed Tuesday, had 433 persons aboard; the Baranof, sailing tomorrow, will take 341 passengers and the Columbia, sailing Saturday, will have 450.

Yacht Explosion Hurts 2 at Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CP)—Two people were injured yesterday when an explosion followed by fire caused considerable damage to the interior of the Vancouver yacht Fusilier, at Newcastle townsite near here.

Syd Henley, Nanaimo, was treated for cuts and burns at the Imperial Oil Company dock while D. Calladine, Vancouver, suffered a gashed forehead.

The Fusilier was taking on gasoline at the dock when the fuel tank exploded and fire quickly spread through the interior of the boat. Calladine, who was in the engine-room, was struck by flying glass, while R. J. Dawson, Vancouver, owner of the craft, was on deck and was uninjured. Mrs. Calladine and Mrs. Dawson were in the cabin and suffered shock.

Mr. and Mrs. Calladine were the guests of R. J. Dawson and his wife aboard the Fusilier. The party had just arrived at Newcastle and were en route to Campbell River.

Cause of the explosion is not known.

"The Clara, the commission said, will be taken to Newport News, Va., for drydocking before being placed in service.

Least damaged of the 28 laid-up Italian vessels, the Clara already had been repaired at Savannah.

Six Danish vessels were taken over last week-end.

Lectures on photography will be given every morning by Dmitri and he will assist and advise the members of the party in taking photographs in the park.

Big Nova Scotia Car Ferry Sinks

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—The car ferry Charlottetown, 5,889 tons, sank early today off the south shore of Nova Scotia and is lying in 100 feet of water. It was announced by E. W. MacKinnon, Prince Edward Island superintendent of the Canadian National Railways. The vessel took in water heavily after she had run aground and was refloated.

Known as the largest ice-breaking car ferry in the world, the Charlottetown, a steamship, piled Northumberland Strait between Borden, P.E.I., and Cape Tormentine, N.B. She was equipped to carry railway trains between the mainland and Prince Edward Island.

On her way to drydock in Saint John for her annual refit, the Charlottetown ran aground Tuesday off the south shore of Nova Scotia in a thick fog. She was refloated by the tide, but water entered her fuel tanks and put her engines out of commission.

Mr. MacKinnon said he presumed Captain John Reid, master of the ferry, and the crew of 30 were safe.

14-year-old Hero

MONTREAL (CP)—Donald D. Drew, 14-year-old King's scholar who was on his way to study at Eton, helped other persons on to rafts before he lost his life in the sinking of a liner in the Atlantic, according to a letter received by his mother here.

The letter from an American said: "I saw a 15-year-old school-boy named Drew helping grown men climb into the raft. I helped him but later the boy grew cold and dropped off. He disappeared beneath the surface."

Oxford Honors F.D.R.

'Better to Die on Feet Than Live on Knees'

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Responding by proxy to a unprecedented shattering award of an honorary degree by Oxford University in Harvard University's ancient yard, President Roosevelt declared today "we... would rather die on our feet than live on our knees."

"We, too, born to freedom and believing in freedom, are willing to fight to maintain freedom," the President said in a message of response to a citation read by Viscount Halifax, the British ambassador and chancellor of Oxford.

The honorary doctorate of civil laws was awarded to Mr. Roosevelt at a dramatic ceremony held a few minutes after Harvard, the United States' oldest university, had awarded an honorary doctorate of laws to Lord Halifax as a representative of a "stalwart nation unyielding before the blows of tyranny."

Eleven other honorary degrees also were handed down by Harvard. One of these was a degree of master of arts to Rev. James J. Tompkins, parish priest of Reserve Mines, N.S., who is identified with the co-operative movement in the Maritime Provinces.

Then, the ambassador, supported by nine officers and delegates of Oxford, England's oldest university, conducted a special convocation of Oxford. It represented a historic transfer of academic functions. Unable to leave Washington, the President was represented by Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, his military aide and secretary.

CHAMPIONS HUMANITY

The President's diploma set forth that Oxford's tribute was given "in lively recollection of his stand for liberty and of his steadfast championship of humanity and law."

Turning to the ambassador, who was arrayed in black and gold robes of state as chancellor of Oxford, Gen. Watson said the President had asked him to "convey this message to his old associates of Harvard University, and Production in the five months ended May 31 totaled 127,118 units. This compared with 92,982 units in the corresponding period last year and 79,244 in 1939.

The bureau said the "remarkable thing" about production in the five-month period was the increase in trucks, chassis and ambulances from 29,435 units in 1940 to 70,457 this year.

Aircraft Report

OTTAWA (CP)—Miles flown by aircraft in revenue service during February totaled 935,741, compared with 935,488 the previous month, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today in its second report on civil aviation.

New York List

NEW YORK (AP)—Both buyers and sellers lacked a great deal of confidence in today's stock market and the result was that leaders generally shifted over to a moderately irregular route.

Transfers for the full proceeds were around 400,000 shares.

While sentiment still was fairly hopeful on the business outlook, brokers said, the confusing market picture apparently kept many potential purchasers from adding to commitments.

On the cheerful side was a more than seasonal upturn in last week's freight loadings and the sale of a stock exchange seat for $28,000, up $2,000 from the last transaction.

Among stocks, three blocks of Commonwealth and Southern common aggregating 25,000 shares, changed hands at yesterday's final quotation of 7-16. This company's senior stock at the same time moved into new high ground for the year. Another high was posted for American Car and Foundry preferred.

In front were Chrysler, General Motors, U.S. Steel, Sperry, U.S. Rubber, Woolworth, Loft, American Smelting and Kennecott.

Laggards were American Telephone, Great Northern, Standard Oil (N.J.), Westinghouse, American Can, Union Carbide, Eastman Kodak and U.S. Gypsum. Canadian stocks were unchanged.

Treasure Hunters Half-starved After Vain Search

Yesterday we were speaking about Cocos Island and the pirate named Benito Bonito. Legend says he buried treasure worth $12,000,000 there, and died before he could take it away.

The story goes on to say: "One of the men who served on Bonito's pirate ship was named William Thompson. He did not die in the fight which took Bonito's life, but was made prisoner."

Half-starved treasure hunters looking for vessel to save them.

"Thompson and another pirate, a Frenchman, told secrets of the pirate gang, so they were not put to death but instead were set free. The Frenchman changed his name, went to the South Seas, and was not heard from again."

"Thompson, on the other hand, became captain of a small sailing vessel, the Mary Read. A revolt was taking place in Peru at that time, and the priests in charge of the churches feared their treasures would be stolen. "Gathering gold coins, jewels and silver bars, they sent them aboard the Mary Read (of all places) under guard of some soldiers. Thompson knew the treasure was worth about $12,000,000 and was tempted to go back to his old, bad life. This very thing he did. The guards were murdered and Thompson sailed to Cocos Island to bury it."

That story, and the one about Bonito, might make people believe there was a total of $24,000,000 buried on Cocos Island. Other tales, even more wild, have placed the value of the treasure at $60,000,000.

There are different accounts about the end of Thompson. One says he died in a London hospital, but told a friend named Keating about his treasure before he passed away.

The legends about Cocos treasure have led scores of persons to go there to try to find it. They have dug holes in many parts of the island, and have used dynamite to blast out rock.

After looking in vain, the treasure hunters have used up their stores of food. There is not much on the island which people can eat, and some of the treasure hunters have been half-starved before they were picked up by a passing vessel.

A German named Geisler seems to have lived on Cocos Island the longest. With his wife and a servant, he spent 20 years there, obtaining supplies by buying them from ships which came along from time to time. Later he went to New York, and reported that all the treasure he had found was a single gold coin. Perhaps that coin had been dropped by another treasure-hunter.

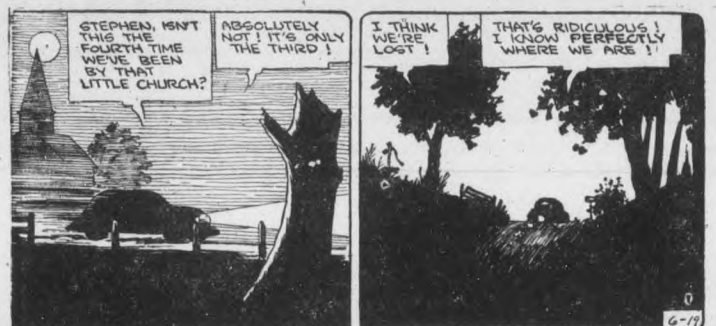

The government of Peru has no record of millions of dollars of treasure being taken away by pirates. Probably the stories are church myths.

Amusements of all kinds will flourish toward evening. Persons who become engaged or who make plans for a new home today should enjoy great happiness. Business and financial affairs are highly favored.

London astrologers declare fifth columnists will be extremely active under the present sway. As graft and corruption are exposed, there may be changes in more than one government. Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—All through school I made poor grades.

Then I married a man who has been much better to me than I deserve. He wants me to be happy and tries to make me so. But nothing seems to be right for me. I am continually finding fault with everybody and everything. I am miserable myself and know I have a bad effect on every one around me. Surely there is some help for me somewhere. Doctors are expensive and I have no money. What can I do?

Answer—In every city there are fine clinics to which the best doctors give their services free. Go to one of them and have a thorough examination made.

If your body is fit, then get busy with your soul. Have it out with yourself and try to find out what it is that makes you so disagreeable to others and that causes you to hate yourself.

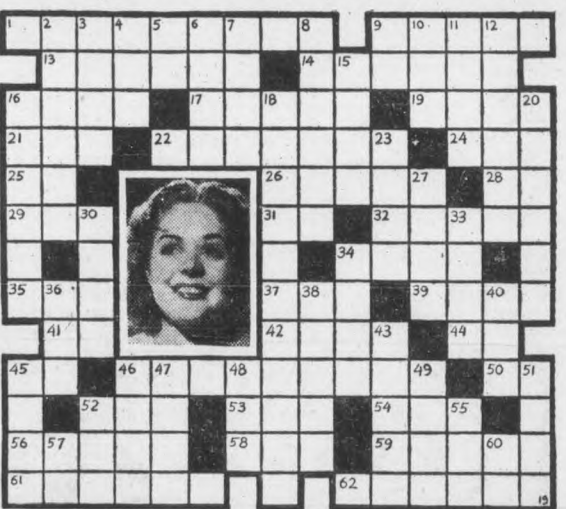

From what you write I should judge that what ails you is selfishness. You have never thought about having any purpose in life or doing your duty to any one else, and as you couldn't have the world handed to you on a silver platter you have taken out your disappointment in grouchings that have finally got you down.

My prescription for you would be to forget about being happy yourself and get busy making that good husband of yours happy. Quit finding fault with everybody and everything and concentrate on curing your own faults.

Go to work. Work until you are so busy that you haven't time to think of anything but the job on hand, and get so tired that you go right to sleep at night when you go to bed. And nail on your face the smile that won't come off. It may be a little stiff at first, but it will soon limber up and be spontaneous.

DOROTHY DIX.

MEDICAL SERVICES
FOR ARMY COSTLY

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada spent an estimated $700,000 for medical and dental equipment and supplies for fighting services in May. Munitions Minister Howe said in a statement last night.

Purchases by the medical section cover a wide range and increase in value each month. May outlays showed an increase of nearly 200 per cent above August, 1940, and purchases for the current three-month period are expected to reach $2,000,000, compared with $1,250,000 in the first three months of 1941.

More than $500,000 was spent on X-ray equipment for Canadian military hospitals, and nearly 110 tons of drugs were ordered in the first three months of 1941.

BANDAGES, BEDS

Bandages bought in the first quarter of this year would number 500,000,000 if cut into one-inch strips. Hospital beds totaled 26,000 units.

Physio-therapy departments have been established in the principal military hospitals. A new foreign body localization system by automatic readings, finds the exact location of shrapnel in the body in relation to skin surface. The pneumonia mortality rate is being reduced by use of sulphathiazole tablets.

"The mortality rate from cerebro-spinal meningitis has been cut from 60 per cent in the last war to 1.7 per cent for this war," the minister said.

Now manufactured in Canada is a laboratory unit with all apparatus for a mobile laboratory. Previously such requirements were purchased in Great Britain.

Scots Will Receive Memorial Book

Following church parade Sunday morning at Heals Camp, a copy of the book recently published by the trustees of the 16th Battalion C.E.F. entitled: "The Canadian Scottish Regiment," will be presented to all ranks of the 3rd Battalion Canadian Scottish R.F. on behalf of the veterans of the 16th C.E.F. by three surviving commanding officers of the 16th, Col. J. E. Leckie, C.M.G., C.B.E., D.S.O.; Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., D.S.O. and Col. H. M. Urquhart, D.S.O., M.C., A.D.C., present colonel of the regiment and the author of the book. All ex-members of the 16th Battalion are invited and asked to attend. Transportation may be arranged by phoning E9943. Cars will leave the city at 10.30 a.m. from the Woolworth Building, corner of View and Douglas Streets.

To Buy Kitchen

British Columbia Junior Red Cross announces it has raised enough money to buy a second mobile kitchen unit for use in Britain. The kitchens cost $3,100 each and are bought in England.

Well Represented

A family that at one time laid claim in the last war to the largest father-and-son representation among the Canadian forces is again doing a substantial bit in this struggle. They are the relatives of Dr. G. F. Amoyt, B.C. provincial health officer.

His brother Frank, who won the singles sculling title at the last Olympics, is a lieutenant. R.N.C.N.R., now in Montreal awaiting orders to proceed overseas. Another brother, John, is a lieutenant instructor in the artillery stationed at Ottawa.

John is a veteran of the Great War, when he, a third brother, William, and Dr. Amoyt, served in the Canadian forces. Their father, Col. John A. Amoyt, C.M.G., was in charge of health services for the Canadian Corps toward the end of the last war.

To Tour Island

Capt. S. H. Okell, M.C., will start on a recruiting tour of Vancouver Island, which will take him to island cities on the following dates: Chemainus, June 23; Nanaimo, June 24-25; Cumberland, June 26; Courtenay, June 27-28; Port Alberni, June 30 and July 1; Nanaimo, July 2; Ladysmith, July 3; Duncan, July 4. Capt. Okell's headquarters will be at the Canadian Legion Hall at all places except Ladysmith, where he will be in the City Hall, and Chemainus, where he will use the orderly room of the 3rd Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, R.F.
